Nature's Conservancy purchases Mike's Island

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS
Publisher Emeritus

The Nature Conservancy last month purchased the Mike's Island site on the Lower Pearl River - more than 2,600 acres of bottomland hardwood and aquatic habitat in Hancock County.

Robbie Fisher, J.D., Nature Conservancy State director, said last week that "We had been negotiating with the owners of Mike's Island for some two years. The property was purchased at a price of $1.4 Million on Aug. 25, really below market value from the Canal Land Company, LLC, of Louisiana."

"While the U.S. Navy has expressed interest in the site as part of a proposed 5,200-acre training range, we are currently in communication with the Navy to make sure that any future use by the Navy is completely compatible with our protection and restoration efforts, as well as taking into account the local community's interest in the property," Fisher said.

Currently, the property is leased by the Mike's Island Hunting Club. Tobie Frierson is the club's president. The Nature Conservancy plans to continue to honor that lease, Fisher said. "We have no plans to fence the property, building any type of barriers, and we have no plans to stop fishing or hunting on the property. Of course, the hunting is controlled by the Hunting Club."

The site includes five miles along the confluence of Mike's River, McCarty Bayou and the Pearl River and is known for its hunting and fishing opportunities.

"One of the goals of the organization is to return the property located in the Pearl River Flood Plane to its natural state," Fisher emphasized.

The land is heavily infested with Chinese Tallow trees (also called popcorn trees), a non-native, invasive species that destroys natural habitats, particularly by affecting soil and water quality.

Their removal will help reduce the spread of seeds by birds and flooding throughout the lower Pearl watershed, which will permit the land to return to bottomland hardwood forest. The Chinese Tallow trees have been imported from China and are of poor value. One of the first projects for the Conservancy is to develop a plan to ride the Island of the Chinese Tallow, she reported.

Cynthia Ramseur, Conservancy Director of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Program, said, "We realize it will be a big project to remove the Tallow trees. They are very hard and only very hard freezes affect them. We feel it will take a lot of hard work and probably a lot of work by hand."

Partial funding for the purchase of Monkey Island came from the Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality through the Mississippi Coastal Impact Assistance Program.

The Gulf of Mexico Program has also funded the development of a community restoration plan for the site.

A portion of the purchase price was also through a loan made by The Nature Conservancy.

Debbie Bird, Conservancy Coordinator for the Lower Pearl Partnership, which includes Hancock and Pearl River Counties and the Louisiana Parishes of St. Tammany and Washington, said, "Currently The Nature Conservancy has two other tracts of land in Hancock County. The Lakeshore Savanna Preserve which has 160 acres and the 350 acre Willie Farrell Brown Preserve."

In Hancock County, The Nature Conservancy has also been involved with protecting some 128,000 acres of land in Mississippi with other state agencies such as the Coastal Preserve Program.

The Nature Conservancy also pays taxes on the land the organization owns, Fisher stated.

The Nature Conservancy also works with other organizations involved with the protection of the Lower Pearl River watershed.

There is a Lower Pearl River Partnership which is between The Nature Conservancy, the Louisiana Department of Environmental Quality and Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality.

The Lower Pearl River Partnership will focus conservation action at the community level in the lower Pearl River watershed primarily where that river forms a common boundary between Louisiana and Mississippi in St. Tammany and Washington Parishes and Hancock and Pearl River Counties.

When possible, this work will be accomplished in collaboration with The Nature Conservancy, Louisiana and Mississippi Departments of Environmental Quality, and Gulf of Mexico Program.

Cuevas' Quotes

by Ellis C. Cuevas
Publisher Emeritus

Bell tolls for you, kids

School bells have rung for many of our young folks and serious school work begins today. This means there will be more traffic about our communities around 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. and 3 to 4 p.m. each day.

Law enforcement agencies will also be enforcing the speed limits in the many school zones in the area. Motorist need to be on the lookout for youngsters walking and riding bicycles to school.

It is hoped that every student will have a safe and great year in school.

Good luck to all students.

Let us not forget the administrators, teachers, aides, lunchroom workers, custodians, etc., as the jobs of all of them are very important.

Those who work to educate our youth are sometimes forgotten, but they play a very important role in our lives.

Best of luck to each and every one of them.

You may want to mark your calendar for Thursday, Aug. 14, as it is the big Ribbon Cutting celebration for the Waveland Public Library's expansion.

The Ribbon Cutting is to take place at 4 p.m.

Then from 5 to 7 p.m. will be the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's August Business After Hours. Sponsors for the After Hours are the City of Waveland, Exchange Club of Hancock County and The Library Foundation of Hancock County.

The expansion at the library increases its size from 3,000 to 5,000 square feet, which is a tremendous increase in size.

So, there are two big events Thursday at the Waveland Public Library.

We hope to see everyone out for the big celebrations.

"Of all the folks I spoke to this past week in Bay St. Louis for the 2003 Dixie Girls Pony Tails World Series, everyone had great things to say about our community.

This for sure also included Dixie World Series and Pony Tails officials, who all had great things to say about the preparations and facilities for the event.

Many good things were also said about the very friendly way they were received by the residents of the community too.

This sure makes one feel good when they hear visitors compliment the community and its residents.

The Dixie Girls Pony Tails World Series was a great event to bring to our community and Bay Mayor Eddie Favre has to be thanked for his efforts along with tournament chairman Lonnie Falgout and each and everyone who helped in some way.

Working together, so many great things can be accomplished.

Hats off to all of you!

DON'T FORGET THE MOST IMPORTANT THING

Lott: Focus on passenger rail travel should be 'National or Nothing'

Passenger rail seems kind of caught between our past and our future, and just kind of transitioning through our present. As cities sprawl, airports clog and folks commute greater distances most transportation visionaries believe passenger rail service will endure in some fashion. The questions before Congress and indeed all Americans are: What form will passenger rail take, and who will be served? Although we may not know what form it will ultimately take, I do know that if we're going to have a national passenger service everyone should be served, not just folks in New York or Washington.

Yet some in Congress and in the Administration seem perfectly content with taxpayers in states like Mississippi, Montana or even Texas paying for passenger rail service that doesn't serve anyone outside big Northeastern cities. To me, that's not acceptable. If America is going to have a national passenger rail system it will indeed be just that - national.

Whether through Amtrak or some quasi-public/private partnership, if all America is going to pay for a passenger rail service it will be national or nothing. Mississippians have been at the forefront of the national passenger rail issue. Men like Meridian Mayor and National Amtrak Board Chairman John Robert Smith and former Federal Railroad Administrator Gil Carmichael have not only helped preserve passenger rail service throughout America, but they've also helped chart a vision for passenger rail's future here, laying the initial groundwork for high-speed rail service and for a more efficient national passenger rail system. Mississippians from Amtrak riders to its Congressional representatives have a lot of money and sweat invested in Amtrak, and we will not abandon it now.

As a member of the Senate's Commerce, Science and Transportation Committee, I was proud to join Senators Kay Bailey Hutchison of Texas, Conrad Burns of Montana, and Olympia Snowe of Maine to propose a six-year, $60 billion plan to keep Amtrak going for everyone, not just for riders in a few northeastern metro areas. Instead of treating the

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

Amtrak system like a stepchild, it would finally give the system enough funds to improve and expand service nationally. With this plan, Amtrak would have $2 billion in annual operating revenue, just over the $1.8 billion Amtrak requested. Sound like a lot to you? Maybe, until you consider that's roughly the cost of one stealth bomber - not so much when you think about this being a national passenger rail system available to all Americans.

The plan would also give Amtrak authority to raise almost $50 million in bonds for repairs and track construction.

This is critical. Unlike any other form of transportation, the vast majority of Amtrak routes run over privately-owned roads, in this case railroads owned by freight railroad companies.

Amtrak crews have no choice. They must regularly stop their trains allowing freight trains to pass, creating delays for passengers.

This bond money would help build bypasses around frequently used sections of track or to construct other vital infrastructure which will allow Amtrak to operate more efficiently and to be more competitive.

This would benefit all rail lines using the tracks. Remember that many of our railroad routes were laid in the 1850s, 1860s and 1870s.

Engineers didn't have the technologies we do today. Trains back then could not climb certain grades. Bridge technology was limited. Earth moving was done mostly with mules. All this resulted in railroads that even today are not always straight enough to efficiently accommodate today's conventional Amtrak trains, much less the high-speed trains that other countries use so effectively. Better routing and better infrastructure would make our nation's rails system more fit for all types of uses, especially passenger service.

Some see Amtrak as a waste of money. I don't. I see wasted opportunities - and Congress did the wasting.

It's time for Congress and the Administration to finally get serious and invest in a national passenger rail system - not a passenger rail system that serves a few, but a real national passenger rail system that can finally complete the transition from a storied past to the promises of its future. To achieve this promise the system must be a committed national effort, or it will be nothing.

Forget annexation fight; Bay & Waveland should be joined

The dispute between Waveland and Bay St. Louis over 603's annexation will be a costly mistake for both small towns and its people.

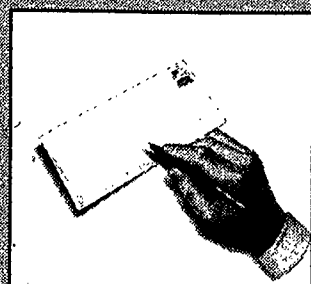

Bay St. Louis and Waveland should have been joined as one municipality years ago - one police force, one fire department, one mayor, one government. Or better yet, a County Government; this will cost no more and probably less than our present duplication of services.

Hancock Schools free & reduced lunch information

In an effort to streamline the Free and Reduced lunch application process, the Child Nutrition Department at the Hancock School District emphasizes the following information about the Free and Reduced Lunch Application:

- Make sure your child has a current application dated 2003-2004 school Year.
- Parents must list all children and the school they attend in the district.
- Complete the application with the name of the child as he/she is enrolled in school, (no nicknames, abbreviations, etc.)
- All household members over the age of 21 must be listed with their corresponding salary and how income is received (weekly, monthly, bimonthly, etc.) for the previous month.
- The signature and social security number of the adult completing the form is mandatory.

• Please ensure the mailing address and phone number completed on the application corresponds with the mailing address and phone number on file with the school.

It takes approximately 30 days for Child Nutrition to process all correctly completed lunch applications. If a parent does not receive a response within the first 30 days, they should reapply. If the application is temporary approved, it is the parent's responsibility to reapply prior to the deadline date as noted in the parent notification letter. For households receiving food stamps, TANF, or benefits for FDIPIR, you only have to include your child's name and case number, and an adult must list a social security number and sign the form.

If at any time a child's status changes from one category to another (for example: free to reduced price), it is the responsibility of the parent to send money with the child for advanced payment or daily sales.

It is vital for the information obtained by the district through the free and reduced lunch application to be correct to ensure a child's eligibility by category and of statistical purposes. Other child nutrition, health, or education programs may use the statistical information to determine benefits or funding, and/or for evaluation purposes. The Hancock School District uses the "household application" therefore; it is only necessary for one application to be completed per household provided all information is provided and correct.

For additional information, contact the Hancock School District's Child Nutrition Department at 228-255-0976.

TV funny man Mutzie prefers Diamondhead to Hollywood

BY SHANNON JENKINS
Staff Writer

For most of his life, Daniel Forestier has been called Mutzie, and there's only one industry for people with one name — show biz.

If people know you by only one name, you better have personality. Mutzie, who has lived in Diamondhead for the past five years, has plenty.

It's his comedic personality that landed him a fruitful career in entertainment.

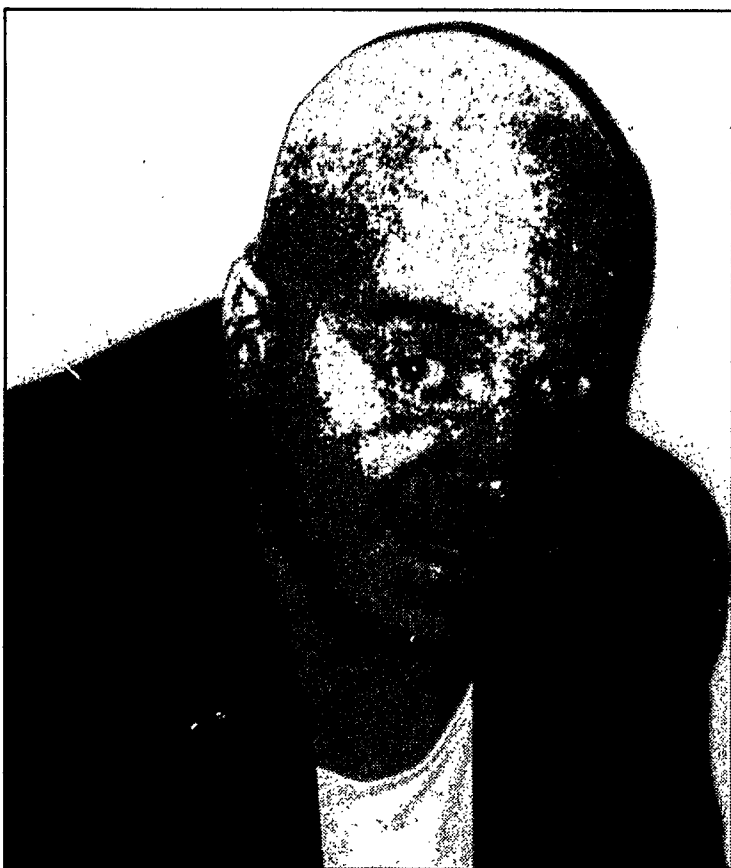

In the early '80s, Mutzie moved to Los Angeles to play drums for a band from his hometown of New Orleans. When he wasn't playing music, he was working as a telemarketer, where he spent a lot of time calling his friends back home. They all told him he should take a stab at comedy and L.A. was just the place to do it.

Mutzie's friends persuaded him to "try his luck" at amateur night at the famous Comedy Store in 1984.

He received a standing ovation for his three-minute set, and his career in comedy began. Mutzie was invited to become a paid performer at the Comedy Store, where he performed between six to 10 shows weekly.

Six months after he first stepped on the Comedy Store stage, Mutzie won second place in a national comedy contest, "The National Lampoon Comedy Playoffs." He has since won numerous awards and honors for his comedy.

In 1990, Mutzie took on comedy professionally and now travels about 35 to 40 weeks a year performing around the country and the world.

He has performed in seven countries and spent nine months in Aruba with his one-man show. Since 1990, Mutzie has spent a total of one year performing in the Bahamas.

He performs everywhere from churches to prisons and has made many television appearances on Showtime, A&E, Comedy Central and BET's Comic View.

Mutzie has been seen on Comic View 14 times since October 2002. On Aug. 23, he will fly to Hollywood to start filming the new season.

Just this week, Mutzie performed in Greensboro, N.C., and Fayetteville, N.C. On Tuesday, he will appear at the Hard Rock Cafe in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Mutzie's show includes "music, a few props, some home-grown characters and improv."

"Improv separates the men from the boys," he said. "You have to think quick on your feet. You never know what you will get."

Although he has performed his show in famous comedy venues worldwide, Mutzie said his favorite places to perform are near his friends and his family, which includes his wife, Trena, his son, Newman, and his daughter, Rachel.

"I like performing close to home because my friends can come see me," he said.

On Thursday, Aug. 14, he will perform in Diamondhead at the Park Ten Lounge in the Park Ten Lanes Bowling Center. The show will begin at 9 p.m. For more information about the show, call Park Ten at 228-255-9973. To find out more about Mutzie, visit his website at www.Mutzie.com.

SMATF 'Bid for Life' rouses art & altruism for AIDS research on Aug. 16

Saturday, August 16, a Blue Dog and a Cat Princess will inspire figurative battle on a Biloxi auction floor as Gulf South art aficionados and philanthropists alike vie for sole ownership of original art and eclectic creations by regionally and internationally renowned artists and artisans.

George Rodrigue's Blue Dog rendering "Bear and Me" and Walter Anderson's "Wedding of the Cat Princess" are just two critically acclaimed artworks featured at this year's Bid for Life, South Mississippi AIDS Task Force's annual fundraising gala chaired for the second year by celebrity chef John "Chappy" Chapman and wife, Starr, and endorsed by honorary chair Jeff Dahl of Beau Rivage Resort and Casino. Bid for Life 2003 includes an array of silent and live auction pieces by well-known artists and craftsmen as well as numerous luxury getaway packages and professional services donated by area businesses.

Doors to next Saturday's Bid for Life cocktail cashbar reception and auction open at 6:30 p.m. at Beau Rivage Resort Hotel's Royale Camellia Ballroom. Ray Zanders Trio will provide entertainment, and dress for the occasion is chic casual resort attire.

Bid for Life tickets are available in advance for $35.00 per person and $60 per couple; at the door, $40.00 per person and $70.00 per couple. To charge advance tickets with Visa or MasterCard, guests may contact the South Mississippi AIDS Task Force (SMATF) at telephone 228-385-1214. Additionally, artists and individuals with potential auction items may contact SMATF before August 15 at 228-385-1214.

Statistics indicate an estimated 42 million people worldwide are living with HIV/AIDS, including 19.2 million women and 3.2 million children under age 15. Approximately 50 percent of adults living with HIV/AIDS are women. One of every 300 Americans is HIV positive, and 66 percent of new HIV infections in America occur among teenagers. In South Mississippi, eight people test HIV positive each month. The South ranks first in America for new AIDS cases; Mississippi, 27th among all states; South Mississippi, second in the state.

Incorporated by the State of Mississippi in 1988, SMATF - a United Way of South Mississippi agency - coordinates services for individuals and families affected by HIV and AIDS as well prevention education programs targeting young people in Harrison, Hancock, Jackson, Pearl River, George, and Stone counties.

Series -- Pony Tails

Fast Pitch ages 11-12-year-olds, worked its way down to Tennessee the only unbeaten team and Plaquemine with only one loss beginning the final night of the World Series action.

In the first game Thursday, Plaquemine, (the home team) jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the first inning. Tennessee took a 2-1 lead in the second.

It was a nip-and-tuck contest until the bottom of the sixth inning, when Plaquemine squeezed in a run from third to tie the score 2-2 on a wild pitch.

Tennessee was shut down in the top of inning seven and Plaquemine had pushed two runners, one to second and another on third with two outs.

A blooper fly dropped in front of second base as the runner raced in from third, to give the underdog Plaquemine a victory. This gave Tennessee their first loss in six games of play.

It was a sweltering and muggy night, but players from both teams gave their best in the second game.

Fan support for both squads was tremendous, every time a strike was thrown, a roar would come from the supporters of the team on the field, at the same time, when a ball was thrown, there was a reverse action.

Tennessee really came into the World Series as one of the potential champs.

In the presentation of the trophies, Richard Murphy, National Pony Tail Commissioner said, "Not only is this a repeat championship for the State of Tennessee, but a repeat with a team from the same league."

Several of the Tennessee players were on the 2002 Dixie Pony Tail World Series championship squad.

The second game Thursday was really tight, as the first three innings were scoreless. Tennessee was the first to cross the plate in the top of the fourth and held that lead until Plaquemine tied the score 1-1 in the bottom of the fifth.

In the top of the seventh, Tennessee got one run in and the bases were loaded

Battling back Plaquemine

Plaquemine, Louisiana captured the runner up trophy in the 2003 Dixie Pony Tails World Series Thursday night at the Bay St. Louis Sports Complex. Plaquemine gave it's all as it started the night with one loss going against an undefeated Tennessee. Plaquemine edged Atoka, Tennessee 3-2 in a seventh extra inning first game as it went into an extra inning, as the score was 2-2, at the end of six. Atoka, the 2002 champs overpowered Plaquemine with a four run burst in the seventh, following a 1-1 tie at the end of six. The proud Louisiana team is coached by Darrell Domingue, head coach; Jerry Angeles, assistant coach and Randy Ancar, assistant coach.

on walks. A two base-hit cleaned the bases, to give Tennessee a 5-1 lead.

There were many pitcher changes made by Tennessee during the night.

Plaquemine threatened with on and no one out in their bottom of the seventh, but were unable to push a run across the plate.

During the awards ceremony, Commissioner Murphy emphasized the great job done by host Bay St. Louis for the World Series.

He gave special recognition to Lonnie Falgout, tournament director (Murphy is from Texas and said it took him a week to learn how to pronounce Falgout's name), for the great organization.

Bay Mayor Eddie Favre, Bay Parks and Recreation Director Gus McKay, and Waveland Mayor Tommy Longo, were also recognized for their efforts by Murphy.

All Pony Tail officials praised the community for their efforts.

Mayor Favre made a point of thanking each and every volunteer, who helped make the World Series a success.

Each player of Tennessee and Louisiana received a special personal trophy in addition to a small teddy bear.

Tennessee also took home the large championship trophy, while Louisiana received a large runner up trophy.

Police Chief John Dubuisson said at the scene Thursday, "and told the teller to put the money in the bag."

The man took an undisclosed amount of money, left the bomb on the counter and walked out of the bank, Dubuisson said. No one saw him after that.

There were some tense moments Thursday as the Pass Christian P.D. - assisted by the FBI, ATF, Biloxi Bomb Disposal, the Harrison County Bomb Squad and Bay St. Louis police - evacuated and cordoned off the area, closing Winn-Dixie and other area businesses.

"Probably, the bomb is a hoax," Dubuisson said. "The others were."

The "others" were home-made fake bombs used in the past week at Louisiana banks in Monroe, Lafayette and Slidell.

Pass Patrolman Zenas Cappie said Thursday that the bomb squad's trained dogs got a "hit" on the package, indicating it could contain explosives, but said that would happen if the suspect had just put a little gunpowder on it. The bomb did prove to be a fake.

People's Bank has released surveillance photos of the suspect, who is a white male with brown hair, and is about 5'8" to 5'10".

"He was very pale," Cappie said, "as if he might have been wearing make-up."

Anyone with information that may help to call the case is urged to call the Pass Christian Police Department at 452-3300.

Hancock's volunteer fire departments need you

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER Staff Writer

If you don't live in one of the incorporated areas of Hancock County such as Bay St. Louis or Waveland, then whether you know it or not, you depend on local volunteer fire departments for fire protection and other emergency services.

And who are these volunteers whose job it is to protect your life and your property? They are you, or at least local volunteer chiefs are hoping they will be you. All of the volunteer fire departments in Hancock County are currently experiencing shortages of volunteers, some more than others, their chiefs say. And without those volunteers local fire protection and emergency services simply can't exist.

Most departments are looking for volunteers, men or women, that are 18 years of age or older, willing to undergo training that would bring them up to state 101 volunteer standards. Many departments have junior volunteer programs including West Hancock and Kiln.

Kim Jones chief of the West Hancock department in Pearlinton, said his department is looking for volunteers of all ages and all physical abilities. The department has a Jr. Volunteer Program for kids 14-18 years old, and the oldest volunteers are seniors. A handicap is no problem either, said Jones.

"If you want to volunteer, we will find something for you to do," he said. "We are a big family no matter what color, race, religion, age or other difference you may have. The department also has social events."

Women are welcome to volunteer at any department and at West Hancock, at least, are the main volunteers during the day. Sometimes women will have to bring their children and one person will watch all the kids at the station while everyone else goes out on a call, Jones said.

Jones said that his goal is to have 35 solid volunteers that he can count on. The department is one of the busier in the county, with over 670 runs last year, 300 of which were problems on Interstate 10, which is part of West Hancock's district. The department covers to the gate of Stennis Space Center, the Port Bienville area, and may work with St. Tammany Parish officials and others if they are asked to help.

If you decide to come on board the departments will furnish all needed equipment and training. Training in fire fighting, emergency medical service, rescue, environmental protection and at West Hancock Hazardous Material training, is all furnished. The only cost is your time.

Volunteers are expected to become First Responders within a year, said Jones, but may go on to training as Emergency Medical Technicians, and Paramedics. It's really a great deal, he said.

Most departments prefer that their volunteers live in the district. In Hancock County there are nine districts.

Contact the one in your area to volunteer. The districts are:

Face -- reconstruction

"We feel the person is from out of the area. And are in the process of distributing the facial reconstruction enhancement to law enforcement agencies in neighboring states of Louisiana and Alabama," Interim Chief Investigator Kenny Hurt reported Friday.

On Friday, Investigator Watson said the department is anxious to hear from anyone who may think they may have known whom the facial reconstruction enhancement may resemble. She added, "We have already checked out three resemblance's to no avail."

"The person whose identity we are seeking was petite, maybe a little over five feet tall and weighed about 100 pounds. She was probably between the ages of 35 to 45-years-old," Watson said. The victim's body was found just off Highway 607, near the old Santa Rosa Community, as it was discovered by a member of a family which was out target practicing.

The woman's body was burned beyond recognition, as someone had piled debris on the body, apparently poured diesel fuel on the debris and set on fire, according to Sheriff Steve Garber's initial report.

The body appeared to have been at the location about one week, she wore a yellow metal band ring on the fourth finger of her right hand; another on the middle finger of her right hand; and a silver ring with a heart design, the stone missing on her left thumb.

Hurt in an earlier report said, "The victim is a white female, was strong in her legs from walking, or worked on her feet all the time, had an old injury to left jaw, and had extensive dental work, as her teeth were in excellent shape."

Hurt urges anyone who may have any type of information on the victim's identity, or a suspect in the murder, to please call the sheriff's office at 228-467-5101, or 601-798-8555.

Economic development course to help professionals deal with constant change

Change is inevitable. But preparation is the master of change. That is the message behind this year's New South Economic Development Course (NSED), an intensive training session for economic development professionals scheduled for Sept. 28-Oct. 3 at Hattiesburg's Lake Terrace Convention Center.

The NSED is coordinated by The University of Southern Mississippi's Center for International and Continuing Education.

The theme for this year is "Dealing with Change." Instruction will focus on teaching participants the latest strategies for dealing with economic development issues in a constantly shifting environment. The course's teachings are meant to provide a framework for participants to expand their careers while at the same time enhancing service to the communities they represent.

Dr. Angeline Dvorak, Southern Miss vice president for Research and Economic Development, and Jimmy Heidel, director of the Vicksburg-Warren County Chamber of Commerce, will co-direct the course.

Dvorak said that learning to deal with change is one of the keys to success for today's economic development professionals and their communities.

"Change is the constant," Dvorak said. "The communities, regions and states that learn to manage change, and in fact embrace change, will be the most prosperous. Economic developers are the rainmakers and visionaries, but also the facilitators, educators and worker bees. They must be multi-tasking quick studies."

That is not likely to change anytime in the near future as the world economic developers deal with is in a constant state of flux.

"Economic developers live in a dynamic reality as traditional city and county lines blur with the prospects of major industry, as well as high-tech startups," Dvorak said.

Gray Swoope, president of Hattiesburg's Area Development Partnership, is one of those dealing with the ever-changing world of economic development. Swoope said that learning to deal with change is crucial.

"Never before has change occurred at such a rapid pace in so many economic arenas," Swoope said. "Our economy is more diverse than it has ever been. The new global environment has not only opened up new doors, but drastically changed the pace at which we work."

"Economic developers must now anticipate change and be prepared to quickly adapt to change by finding new, innovative ways to deal with the challenges our economy poses. Speed and diversity are keys to success."

The NSED is accredited by the International

Economic Development Council (IEDC), the largest membership organization serving the economic development profession. The IEDC's mission is to provide leadership and excellence in economic development and to build strong sustainable communities.

The NSED is considered equal to the IEDC's Introduction to Economic Development Course and may be applied toward requirements to sit for the Certified Economic Developer Exam.

Registrants who complete the course qualify for admission to the Economic Development Institute and to the IEDC Professional Development Series.

The course is being sponsored by The Mississippi Development Authority, The Mississippi Economic Development Council, The Southeast Mississippi Economic Development Network, The Area Development Partnership of Forrest County, Louisiana Generating LLC, Entergy Corporation and Mississippi Power Company.

In addition to full- and part-time economic and community developers, the NSED's instruction will be of benefit to planners, real estate developers, elected officials, utility and transportation personnel and business leaders interested in improving their communities and states.

The fee for participating in the NSED is $550, and registrations received after Sept. 12 will be assessed a $50 late fee. For more detailed registration information, call (601) 266-4186.

Bank to purchase Magna Insurance

An agreement announced by senior officers of Hancock Holding Company - the parent company of 104-year-old Hancock Bank - will expand the Gulfport-based company's insurance business footprint across 14 new states.

Under the terms of the agreement, Hancock will purchase Magna Insurance Company, a wholly owned subsidiary of Union Planters Corporation, Memphis, TN. Harrison Life Insurance Company, an existing Hancock subsidiary conducting business in Mississippi and Louisiana, will merge with Magna Insurance Company.

The venture will enable Hancock to offer Magna products and services through Hancock Bank and other client banks across the entire southeastern United States, including Texas and Florida, and much of the Midwest. Hancock executives expect to complete the purchase by the fourth quarter of this year.

"Harrison Life Insurance Company has been an important part of the Hancock corporate structure since 1978. As Magna merges with Harrison Life, we look forward to building on that success and creating new lines of life insurance products for customers. This acquisition represents a logical, strategic step toward Hancock's corporate goal of growing as a full-service financial services company," said Hancock Holding Company Chief Financial Officer Carl J. Chaney.

Chartered in 1987, Magna Insurance Company is a well-capitalized, profitable life insurance company headquartered in Mississippi and licensed for business in 16 states, including Mississippi and Louisiana. With assets of $28.3 million, Magna is rated B++, or very good, by A.M. Best, the world's oldest and most authoritative source of insurance company ratings and information and the industry's standard measure of insurer financial performance. Magna is currently approved for business in Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Stennis Space Center hosts Industry Day

NASA Stennis Space Center (SSC) will host Industry Day 2003 on Aug. 19 at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis. The event will feature presentations and approximately 30 exhibits as a "one-stop shopping day" for industry - particularly small businesses - to explore business opportunities with NASA, SSC, and federal, state and commercial agencies at SSC.

Speakers during the presentation portion will include Mississippi Congressman Gene Taylor, SSC Interim Center Director Michael Rudolph and representatives from a variety of SSC organizations and agencies.

Organizers encourage early registration due to limited seating for the presentations. The deadline for event registration is Aug. 12. Participants who register no later than Aug. 8 will also have the opportunity to take advantage of a bus tour of SSC. Hotel reservations at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis secured before Aug. 8 can be made at a preferred rate by mentioning SSC Industry Day 2003.

Sharp increase in SBA-backed loans fuels small business job growth

The number of small businesses receiving loans backed by the U.S. Small Business Administration in the first three quarters of FY 2003 is up by almost 36 percent over the same date a year ago, with sharp increases in loans to minorities, women and veterans.

Based on statements made by the borrowers, the loans made so far in FY 2003 have financed the creation or retention of more than 411,000 jobs.

"These sustained increases in SBA loan-making this year shows our commitment to meeting the unique financing needs of American small businesses and validates our approach to make that assistance more readily available to them," said SBA Administrator Hector V. Barreto. "It proves that our outreach efforts have been highly effective, and it shows how these loans are working to build the economy through job creation."

The overall increase in loan approvals under the agency's two major loan programs, the 7(a) General Business Loan Guaranty program and the Certified Development Company (or 504) loan program, came to 35.7 percent, reflecting an increase from 38,648 loans during the first three quarters of FY 2002 to 52,435 loans during the same period this year. Strong increases were registered in both programs: 7(a) loans were up by 37 percent and 504 loans rose by 22 percent.

Overall, loans to small businesses owned by minorities increased by 46 percent, from 9,715 in the first three quarters of 2002 to 14,171 in the same period this year. Within that total, loans to African Americans increased by 88 percent, loans to Hispanic Americans increased by 44 percent, loans to Asian Americans increased by 34 percent and loans to Native Americans increased by 27 percent. Loan approvals for women small business owners increased by 40 percent, to 10,668 loans, and loans to veteran-owned small businesses rose by 22 percent, to 4,958 loans.

The total dollar amount approved under the two programs during the period rose by just 2 percent, to $10 billion. The dollar value of loans under the 7(a) program alone declined by 3 percent, to $7.85 billion. The average loan size in the 7(a) program fell to $164,600 in the first nine months of the year, from $232,075 in the same period a year ago.

Volleyball serves up start of '03-'04 athletic year for local high schools

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II
Staff Writer

The high school volleyball season hits the court on Tuesday, August 12.

The Bay High Tigers will entertain the St. Martin Lady Yellow Jackets and Hancock will have an open date. The OLA Crescents, defending state champions, will open their season on the road with a match against Ocean Springs.

There is a new alignment for volleyball this season. The schools have been divided into Class I and Class II. The Class I teams are the smaller schools throughout the state while Class II comprises the larger schools.

The Crescents won their state championship last season competing against teams no matter the size of the school. The Crescents defeated Class 5A Southaven for the title. The year before, OLA reached the state finals only to lose to Class 5A Tupelo. OLA has won their division three consecutive years.

As the Crescents prepare to defend their state title, there are many holes to fill in the lineup. OLA lost five starting seniors - Julie Reboul, Katherine Milner, Jennifer Fortenberry, Clare Adam, and Grace Allen. The team has one returning senior who has been a three-year starter in Rachel Cranford.

Other top returning players are junior defensive specialist Jordan Fisher, sophomore Lauren Renz, sophomore letter winners Rachel Cuevas and Kaylee Schmitt, and sophomore newcomer Annie Giardino.

OLA will play in Class I this season with division foes Bay High, Pass High, and Mercy Cross. The top two teams in each division will advance to the state playoffs.

The Crescents have the tough task of rebuilding and replacing five starters. However, there is experience waiting in the wings for OLA. The Lady Tigers are expected to field a tough team this season as the team has starters and experience returning to the court. Hancock is also expected fare well in the 2003 season.

The majority of the games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The home site for OLA is the Fr. Peter Mochler Gymnasium, the Wilmer Seymour Gymnasium for Bay High, and the Hawk Gymnasium for Hancock.

Dove season opens Sept. 1

THE SEA COAST ECHO

The opening of dove season is just a few weeks away, according to the Dept. of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

This year, dove season opens across Mississippi on Sept. 1, and will continue through Sept. 21.

Conservation officials say hunters should begin now preparing for opening day.

"It goes without saying that if hunters don't have their new 2003-04 hunting licenses, they should buy them now," DWFP Deputy Administrator Al Tuck said.

"And when they buy them, hunters should make sure their licenses contain their HIP certification."

Becoming HIP certified is easy, officials say, and it doesn't cost anything. All hunters have to do is answer a few questions about their hunting experiences.

As the opening day of dove season nears, hunters should visit the field they will hunt to make sure it isn't baited. Hunting mourning doves over a baited field is a violation of state and federal laws.

Also, hunters should know beforehand if a fee will be required for dove hunting at their chosen location.

Shooters should inspect their shotguns now to make sure they are in a safe condition and are plugged and incapable of holding more than three shells.

For more information about dove hunting dates, laws, and regulations, contact your local district office of the Dept. of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks, or call the Jackson Office at 601-432-2400.

What's Your Problem?

No parking?

This sign on Gex Street in Bay St. Louis states "No Parking". A more accurate wording might be, "No Walking." Tree limbs completely block the sidewalk and extend into the street. Grass, vines and weeds have claimed their place where people once walked. And at the end of the same, short street, plants and bushes again block the sidewalk, preventing it's use. Who would be responsible if a pedestrian traveling between Court and Main Streets, next to the Hancock County Court House, is injured while negotiating their way around these obstacles, blocking public property? Would it be the property owner or the city? So what's your problem? Could it be solved by making it the object of public attention? Call us at The Sea Coast Echo, 467-5473; write us a letter at P.O. Box 2009, Bay St. Louis, 39521; or e-mail us at gbelcher@seacoastecho.com.

MDHS collects past due child support by tax interception

Income tax refunds intercepted from absent parents by request

The Mississippi Department of Human Services (MDHS), Division of Child Support Enforcement (DCSE), announce, last week that a total of 21.5 million dollars was collected in past due child support through interception of State and Federal income tax refunds due absent parents for 2002. Collections for 2003 currently exceed 18.5 million dollars. Child Tax Credits will also be subject to tax intercept for past due child support. Additional collections from the tax credits will be added to the collections for 2003.

Many families who could benefit from this service have not made application. Families who are not receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) are urged to contact their County Department of Human Services Child Support Office for information and the necessary application forms.

The tax program is free to all families who are receiving TANF or Medicaid Only as administered through the MDHS. In addition, other families may obtain this service by completing a child support application and paying a one-time fee of $25.00.

Interested persons should provide all required information by September 15, 2003, and earlier, if at all possible, since additional documents may be needed. The DCSE will then process the documents necessary to intercept possible refunds for tax year 2003.

Other requirements for tax offset services include; (a) past due child support amounts verified at $500.00 or more; (b) absent parent's verified Social Security number; and (c) a copy of the court order that established the support obligation. Alimony can be collected through tax intercept for non-TANF child support cases when the related child support obligation is being enforced by MDHS and other criteria are met.

CASA offers volunteer training

Hancock County CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) will be holding volunteer training sessions in August and September. Former Marine making America remember again

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Sitting in his wheelchair, Marine dress blues, with no legs, he looks distinguished, authoritative. He is a man sent with a message for our times.

He speaks with thunder in his voice. His story is powerfully graphic, revealing, and rings with reality about a country and a national heritage that many Americans have forgotten.

His name is Tim Lee. He is a former Marine Corps Sergeant and Purple Heart recipient from the Vietnam conflict. A violent land mine explosion in 1971 placed him in a wheelchair, but also made him one of the most listened to people in America.

He is recognized across the nation as one of the most exciting Evangelists and Christian Statesmen of our generation. He shares a personal testimony that has impacted the lives of United States Senators and Congressmen, Governors and state and local officials. He has won the acclaim of thousands of American citizens, and the respect of the strongest and noblest of men and women who have heard his unique delivery.

His remarks and conclusions on the topics he addresses are controversial and explosive, but they present strong biblical truth and patriotic ideals in a way that captivates his audiences.

An encounter with Tim Lee will long be remembered. He is a man with answers for this generation, and one who speaks from the heart.

The public is invited to hear Tim Lee in person at the Lakeshore Baptist Church, August 24-27. Sunday Morning August 24 at 10:30 am and Sunday-Wednesday August 24-27 at 6:30 pm each evening.

Going for Gold

Gold Star

Norman Winter

SOUTHERN

Yellow bells, or Gold Star esperanza, has become a hot plant in the past couple of years. As a testament to its showy nature, people are buying it despite not knowing much about it.

The Gold Star is known botanically as Tecoma stans and is in the family known as Bignoniaceae, which means it is related to our native cross-vine. It is a tropical native to the warmest parts of the United States, Mexico and South America. It is listed as a zone 9 or higher plant. I have had several gardeners tell me they have coaxed the Gold Star through the winter with an added layer of mulch.

In Mississippi, we normally expect them to reach 3 to 4 feet tall and mounding. They are much larger in frost-free areas.

It was chosen as a Texas Superstar winner and judging from the many satisfied gardeners in Mississippi, it could also qualify as a Mississippi Medallion award winner. This evergreen shrub produces yellow, bell-shaped flowers from spring through frost. It practically laughs at the full-sun heat in July and August.

The striking flowers are complemented by dark green, glossy foliage. Butterflies and hummingbirds relish the yellow bells' nectar.

Opinions split on school uniforms

Results are

Several years after their introduction, school uniforms are performing as expected. And as expected, many students don't like wearing them.

Their use has been credited with reduced behavioral problems and better learning environments. The U.S. Department of Education outlines their usefulness and regulations in an online manual on the subject.

"In response to growing levels of violence in our schools, many parents, teachers and school officials have come to see school uniforms as one positive and creative way to reduce discipline problems and increase school safety," the department states.

Louise Davis, Extension associate professor of child and family development at Mississippi State University, said wearing uniforms reduces peer pressure students face in school.

"Uniforms create less distinction between the haves and the have-nots," Davis said. "They help the students focus on learning rather than the clothes they wear."

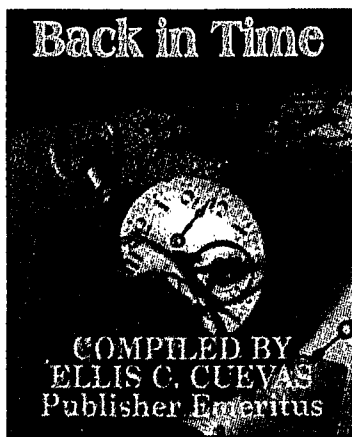

Official education department rules state that students can express themselves within the uniform policies by wearing such things as buttons as long as the items don't interfere with discipline or the rights of others.

Many schools that enacted uniform policies have seen dramatic decreases in violence and improvements in attendance and class participation. According to the U.S. Department of Education, much of this appears to be attributed to the use of uniforms and their ability to reduce distractions.

Kathy Wilson, principal at Kemper County High School, said uniforms were already in place when she

TEN YEARS AGO

July 29, 1993 - Due to a lack of support and interest the 14th annual Beachfront Festival, set for Sunday, August 8, has been canceled by the sponsors. Spearheading the project was the City of Bay St. Louis in conjunction with the Hancock County Tourism and Gaming Association, the Bay St. Louis Business Association and the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce. The festival was canceled some time ago, but the city decided to pick up the project and appropriated $7,500 in hopes to revive it.

"There was just not enough interest to justify the expense of taxpayers to do the festival," said Mike Cuevas, special projects coordinator for the city.

Diamondhead's rapidly growing community has expanded its growth even more with the addition of a medical, the Hancock Medical Center

Diamondhead Clinic, to be opened January, 1994. Don Henderson, HMC administrator announced that Dr. David Roberts will be returning to the area to head the clinic.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

July 31, 1983 - Martin Marietta has been awarded a $444,000 study contract to update and further define the design of a cargo carrier to fit on the aft end of the Space Shuttle external tank.

The eight-month contract was awarded by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, AL.

Issuance a license to a terminal operator at Port Bienville to collect channel and waterway tariffs was discussed at a recessed meeting of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission Thursday evening. The proposed license would be purchased from the commission for $500, and would authorize the purchaser, as a terminal operator, to collect wharfage and barge fees. DHS collects millions in unpaid child support

ASSOCIATED PRESS
 JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—The Mississippi Department of Human Services collected more than $21 million in past due child support last year by intercepting State and Federal tax refunds.

The Division of Child Support Enforcement at MDHS announced the figures Thursday and said more than $18.5 million has been collected so far this year.

The tax program is free to all families receiving Temporary Assistance for Needy Families or Medicaid Only as administered throughout the MDHS. Other families can obtain the service by completing a child support application and paying a one-time $25 fee.

Those interested receiving TANF should contact the Department of Human Services Child Support Office in their county. Potential participants should provide all required information by Sept. 15 in order for the DCSE to intercept possible funds for tax year 2003.

At a recent meeting of the Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, Chris Longly, a member of Gov. Ronnie Musgrove's Re-election Committee, shared campaign issues and strategies with committee members and guests. Two key elements of the Governor's re-election campaign include focus on education and developing new businesses for the state of Mississippi. Commented Longly, "Mississippi has become increasingly marketable for large businesses. Nissan represents a great example of how Mississippi's economic growth has been affected. Currently, resi-

Casino Magic signs comedian Don Rickles to two year contract

Legendary entertainer to headline Mississippi Showroom through '05

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Don Rickles, a mainstay in gambling resorts for over four decades, continues his amazing success story as a headliner with a new two year deal at Casino Magic in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. His contract calls for a minimum of two engagements per year through the end of 2005.

"We are delighted to have retained an entertainer of Don Rickles caliber and stature in the industry" said John Jagunich, President, COO & General Manager of Casino Magic Bay St. Louis. "We look forward to a successful run with Don, while continuing to be a premier source for quality entertainment on the Mississippi Gulf Coast."

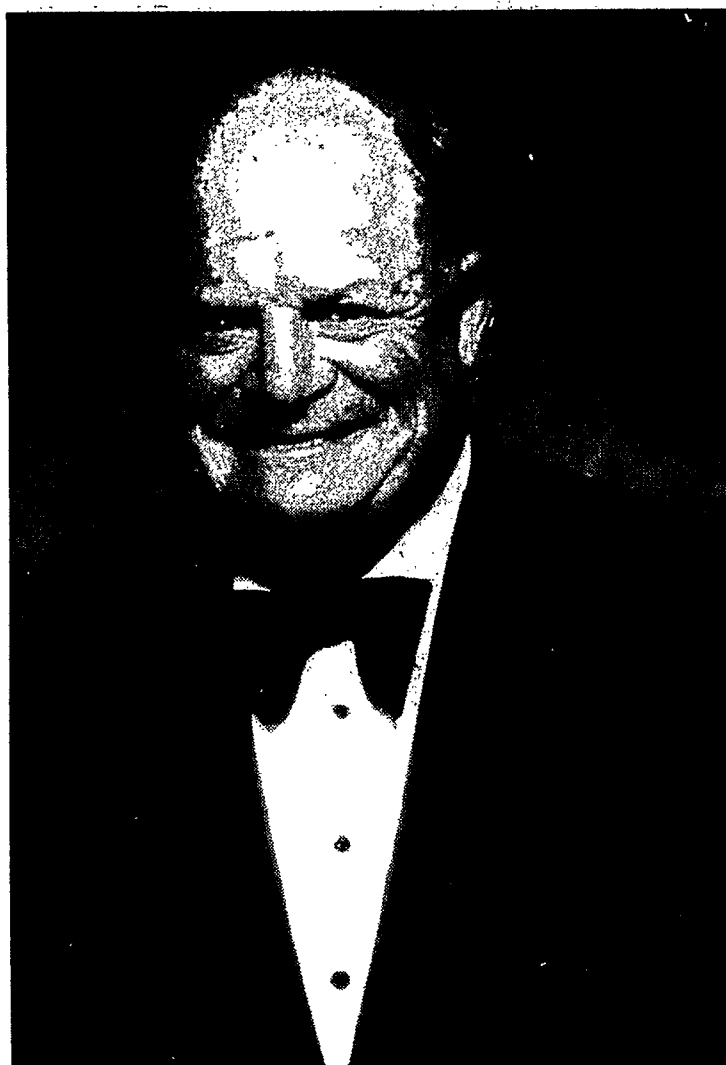

Rickles notes, "Thanks to Casino Magic for this great contract. I'm now able to quit working as a riverboat gambler."

Rickles originally attracted attention by making hilarious observations about those in his audiences, including some of the biggest names in show business. As his fame grew, it became a badge of honor to be personally roasted by Rickles. Many of his most prominent targets (including Frank Sinatra, Johnny Carson and Dean Martin) ultimately became significant supporters and benefactors. Rickles' popularity stems from a rapier-quick wit mixed with a sensitivity that enables him to know the exact limits of his comedic approach. His show is based on his audiences' willingness to laugh at themselves.

Rickles' emergence as a comedy icon led to offers from leading nightclubs throughout the country, as well as from television and films. A graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, he was well prepared to take advantage of opportunities to play serious and comedic acting roles. His career has been regularly highlighted by acclaimed performances on top-rated network TV shows and major motion pictures. Some of his recent film credits include "Casino" and "Toy Story 2."

Rickles' longevity as a

showroom headliner is virtually unmatched by any other comedian in the business. "Mr. Warmth's" style has proven to cross all generation lines. Rickles' first engagement under the new contract with Casino Magic is scheduled for next month, August 15 - 16.

Time -- wounded

We are going to need these fees to repair the roads that overloaded trucks are damaging."

FORTY YEARS AGO

August 1, 1963
Upwards to 6,000 voters in Hancock County are expected to go to the polls Tuesday between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. in the Democratic primary to select the party nominees for all state, county and district offices for the next four years.

Two of the 50 new connection for Coast Electric Power Association in Hancock County are designed to speed the county in the August Democratic primaries. Lights were installed at the Catahoula and Kiln voting precincts, presumably so election officials can tabulate results Aug. 6 and the runoff without having to wait until daylight.

FIFTY YEARS AGO

July 31, 1953 - A Bay St. Louis youth, Louis Summers, was wounded six days before the Korean truce was signed and other Bay families reacted with mixed emotions at the close of the three year war. Summers, son of Maurice Summers and husband of Marie Summers of Biloxi, was wounded on July 20 while fighting with his marine Corps Unit.

His father, Maurice Summers, said he believed the truce would get Louis home quickly. Summers, a private, has been in Korea one month. He has been in the Marines for two years.

SIXTY YEARS AGO

July 30, 1943 - The Editor is in receipt of a letter from Cpl. Ernest Milam, who is with the Air Force in Africa, stating that he had met his old school mate Gene Monti over there and that they visited Marion Beal, and had a very pleasant gathering. Ernest stated that he received the Echo and enjoyed it immensely.

Miller named major of Southern Region MHP

Colonel L. M. Claiborne of the Mississippi Highway Patrol has announced the promotion of Captain John Miller of the Biloxi District to the position of Major of the Southern Region. Major Miller will be responsible for the Enforcement Division of the Mississippi Highway patrol; that includes the Biloxi, Hattiesburg, and Brookhaven Districts.

Major Miller resides in Poplarville with his wife, the former Janet Ladner Yates. He has three children, Christine, Paul and Samantha. He is a member of the Steep Hollow Baptist Church.

Major Miller brings 31 years of service his new position. He was commissioned September 1, 1972. He was a uniformed Trooper for 15 years in Pearl River County. He also was assigned to the Criminal Investigation Bureau for 15 years, rising to the rank of Captain. He served one year as Troop Commander, Troop K - Biloxi, before being promoted to the rank of Major.

Uniforms

came to the school three years ago. The school had problems with gangs and gang behavior, and requiring uniforms prevented the students from wearing gang colors.

With behavior problems in check, the uniforms also help keep costs down for school clothing in this economically depressed area. All students wear either khaki shorts, long pants or skirts with white, navy blue or royal blue polo shirts.

"I hear parents say they like uniforms because it's more economical. I hear children say they hate it because they want to wear the latest fashions," Wilson said. "As an administrator, I don't have problems with the dress codes that a lot of my peers have. I'm satisfied with uniforms, considering the alternatives."

But while parents and school administrators typically like them, many students don't. Uniforms promote conformity and youth often want to express themselves as unique individuals.

Davis, however, said young people should learn to express themselves in ways other than through the clothes they wear. "Your own self should come through," Davis said. "Wearing a uniform sends the message that clothes don't say who you are. You have to work harder at your own personality, your own self-esteem and your own self-confidence to say who you are."

Davis, whose two sons attended schools requiring uniforms, said uniforms can help students feel more a part of the school environment. She acknowledged that mandatory uniforms do raise some questions of personal rights and freedom of speech.

"We do live in a society where we have to conform to rules. This is just one of those rules you just have to obey for the sake of the greater good," Davis said. "There's plenty of time to be your individual self."

times as large as the root ball and plant at the same depth it is growing in the container.

Feed container-grown plants with a diluted water-soluble 20-20-20 fertilizer every other week or use controlled-release granules according to the formula recommendation. Keep in mind that daily watering and high temperatures usually mean fertilizing more often. Feed those in the landscape every four to six weeks with light applications of fertilizer.

Remove seedpods as they form to keep flowers producing, or save a few seeds for planting indoors next winter. They are also easy to propagate from cuttings, and the smaller plants are easier to overwinter.

Use the Gold Star around the pool for a look of the islands. Grow under tall bananas or upright elephant ears. Combine with other hummingbird-attracting plants like the Brazilian sage or bog sage, or even our annual red salvia. Also try it in front of dark purple forms of buddleia.

The yellow bells plant is often sold generically, but the variety name Gold Star esperanza from the Texas Super Star program is spreading across the country.

It is fun to grow tropicals at our homes, and it is especially nice when they bloom nonstop. This represents good value for your dollar whether you want to protect through the winter or start over next spring.

Acadian Grill

Nothing pleases the palate better than flavorful New Orleans style cuisine and nobody on the Gulf Coast does New Orleans style cuisine better than Acadian Grill.

Acadian Grill located at 141 Highway 90 in Waveland is owned and operated by Rob Watson and Michael O'Dwyer. Both Watson and O'Dwyer are committed to serving excellent food, priced reasonably to their valued patrons. That is the reason people return again and again from all over the gulf coast to enjoy Acadian Grill's delicious dishes. Only prime beef steaks are served at Acadian Grill and the seafood is delivered three times weekly to ensure freshness.

The decor at Acadian Grill is "casually elegant". The walls at Acadian Grill are graced by the works of local artisans with the exception of the mural in the back dining room. (There's a story there, so be sure to ask one of the owner's, who by the way are always present, about that.)

The bar at Acadian Grill is fully stocked and offers everything from single malts to fine cognac.

There is also a private banquet room that can comfortably accommodate gatherings of up to 50 guests.

Weekends at Acadian Grill offer chef's specials and a Sunday brunch served with either mimosas or champagne.

So, come as you are and allow Acadian Grill's experienced wait staff to serve you fine food in a casual atmosphere.

Acadian Grill is open 7 days a week. Sunday through Thursday from 11am - 9pm and Friday & Saturday from 11am - 10pm. Reservations are not necessary but are accepted by calling 469-FOOD!

WHEN KINGS WERE NOT OBEDIENT!

THE KINGS IN THE BIBLE OFTEN WENT AGAINST THE ADVICE OF THE PROPHETS. THOUGH THE ROYAL LINE WAS WELL EDUCATED THIS DID NOT EXCLUDE THEM FROM MAKING THE MISTAKES OF THE COMMON MAN. UNFORTUNATELY WHEN THIS HAPPENED NOT ONLY THEY BUT AN ENTIRE NATION WOULD BE AFFECTED. SOMETIMES THE EFFECTS OF THEIR DISOBEDIENCE WOULD BE MANIFEST FOR YEARS AND YEARS. SUCH A CASE IS THAT OF KING JOHIAKIM WHEN HE DID NOT LISTEN TO THE WISDOM OF JEREMIAH THE PROPHET. (II KINGS 24) THIS RESULTED IN JERUSALEM BEING BESIEGED BY NEBUCHADNEZZAR'S ARMIES AND CAUSING THE POPULATION TO BE PLUNGED INTO A PERIOD OF STARVATION.

God - The Universe's Hottest Item

One way or another, God manages to be the hottest item in whatever we human beings are engaged in at any given time.

When a firestorm engulfs the general convention of the Episcopal Church concerning the possible ordination of the first openly gay bishop, the real focus is not Rev. Gene Robinson.

God is the real, the only focus here. All others are bit players.

Oddly, the media and the clerics themselves are using inaccurate terms.

They keep saying, "the first openly gay bishop," when they really mean "the first openly sexually active gay bishop." For most of us know over 20 percent of Catholic priests are gay, plus an interesting number of bishops.

However, that does not mean they are sexually active. As a matter of fact, most of the clerics I know keep their noses clean, and give generously of their talent, time and treasure toward the spreading of the Good News.

In many cases, they flat out do their heterosexual clerical counterparts. Sixteen Rev. Gene Robinson has been living with his male lover for some 14 years, let it be known that there is virtually no difference had he been living with a female lover for 14 years.

For guidelines, we might glance at chapter 3 of Paul's first letter to Timothy.

"A bishop must be irreproachable, married only once — self-controlled. He must manage his own household well, keeping his children under control with perfect dignity; for if a man does not know how to manage his own household, how can he take care of the Church of God?"

Without God, there would be no firestorms in any aspect of religion. What makes the jihad of Islamic extremists so galling, so hateful, so vitriolic and so overall revolting to most people is the assigning of murderous acts to the will of God.

Unfortunately, some Christians and others have done the same.

God is the central figure of every firestorm. From unbelievably inhuman, ugly human sacrifices of children, women and others in prehistoric times up to the insane cult excesses of every imaginable description in our supposedly enlightened world, God remains the one unvarying, indisputable constant.

When we strip moral questions and dilemmas down to their least common denominator, we always find God at the bottom. Specifically, the ultimate question invariably breaks down to, "What is the will of God in this?"

Thus we find some women usurping God's will with reference to their bodies. Not that the men involved in abortions are any cleaner vis-à-vis God's will.

Jesus assures us that he is responsible for the sharp moral divisions and firestorms between family members, relatives, friends, acquaintances, business contacts and the public at large. He made it clear to his earthly apostles and to us that his teachings are wonderful but extremely divisive.

"Do not think that I have come to bring peace upon the earth. I have come to bring not peace but the sword. For I have come to set a man against his father, a daughter against her mother, and a daughter-in-law against her mother-in-law; and one's enemies will be those of his household." (Matthew 10:34-35)

As usual, God is the epicenter of the firestorms raging around some of the genetic engineering initiatives, especially when it comes to tinkering with, modifying, playing God controlling personal human traits.

But we can live with genetic boosting of our immune system or genetic controlling of germs.

Is it any wonder that religion in the lives of Americans is the hottest topic flooding periodicals and books nowadays? It is no secret that religion and God talk thrive most when times are most troubled and dangerous. Hence, the hand-in-glove fit between God out there and our ordeals down here.

On any given day or week-end, someone else is spilling ink or bombarding the airwaves, exploring God/religion in our everyday thoughts, words and activities. The unrelenting hunt is on as some children of traditional parents seek their religious fortune in other, sometimes exotic, religions.

For their part, the older, traditional generation are finally fully developing their photo snapped so many years ago in the bloom of their childhood and youth. With increasing sharpness, their interest focuses on God, the eye of today's storms in their lives, but even more on God waiting on the other side.

We can feel vocalist Rosetta Tharpe's eerie gospel song pique our inmost sensibilities, "There Are Strange Things Happening Every Day!" Creedence Clearwater Revival chimes in, "There's a Bad Moon on the Right." "There is Superstition," adds Stevie Wonder.

God is the epicenter of every firestorm in our lives, even when we try with all our strength to distance ourselves from him. Yes, we find God even more intimate and more insistent when we attempt to lose him and drop him out of our lives. God is always Francis Thompson's "Hound of Heaven" whom we can flee from venue to venue, but from whom we cannot hide.

The "Word" for the Week Not just pie in the sky

Dennis J. Prutow • Box 303, Sterling, KS 67579

Many people have a fixation against Christianity.

They are hung up on what they view as pie in the sky by and by. If Christianity has nothing to do with the day-to-day grind we experience on the job, what good is it? Christianity does promise the joy of blissful existence free from all sorrow in the life to come. But what about now?

Well, it is not all just pie in the sky. The faithful saints of old realized this. Take Moses as an example. Moses enjoyed all the pleasures the world this day had to offer. He was the right hand man to the king of Egypt. He had wealth, prestige, and overwhelming authority.

Yet he forsook it all to lead the Jewish people out of slavery. Against insurmountable odds he led the people out of Egypt and through the desert to the Promised Land. The Egyptian sorcerers cast their spells against him. Pharaoh chased him. The people being delivered grumbled against him and challenged his leadership.

Yet Moses organized the people, built a center for worship, and led the people on. How did he do it? Where did he get the strength to carry on? The strength came from God. The courage came from God. Listen to this description of Moses.

"By faith Moses, when he had grown up, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter; choosing rather to endure ill-treatment with the people of God, than to enjoy the passing pleasures of sin; considering the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt; for he was looking to the reward" (Hebrews 11:24-26).

We can endure all sorts of hardships and trials if we know the final reward will be great. Moses' faith in Christ sustained him. Faith in Jesus Christ sustains us in the same way today.

St. Clare Catholic Church

It's been said that many people, in some way, are searching for God. Reaching out to those who are looking for answers is what RCIA (Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults) is all about. It is a continuing process of prayer, study and discussion to bring new members into the Catholic Church.

Noel Phillips, Director of Religious Education for the parish, said that the lay members of St. Clare will be reaching out to:

1. Unbaptized adults and baptized Christians from other faiths who want to learn more about the Catholic faith and possibly become Catholics;

2. Catholics who may have been baptized but have not received the other Sacraments required of Catholics.

The first phase, which begins on Aug. 28 at 7 p. m. at St. Clare, 234 South Beach Boulevard, Waveland, is a preliminary program to explain the process of preparing adults for initiation into the church through the reception of the Sacraments of Baptism, the Eucharist and Confirmation.

Parishioners are invited to ask friends and neighbors to the meeting, as well as those who may benefit from the inquiry and all who may wish to join as sponsors or workers in this outreach process.

For further information, contact Noel Phillips at 228-467-3296 or the Rectory at 228-467-9275.

Following the cleanup, volunteers must show their T-shirt as a pass for a free lunch of hamburgers, chicken sandwiches, potato chips and Coca-Cola products at Outback Steakhouse in Gulfport between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. only the day of the event. Vanessa Lengies

Checking in With Vanessa Lengies

By John Crook
© Zap2it

Most of the cast members of NBC's "American Dreams" have to find some way to recapture the naive sweetness of mid-'60s Philadelphia, but cast member Vanessa Lengies has it a little easier than most.

"My character, Roxanne, is supposed to be kind of 'the bad girl' in the story," laughs the bubbly actress. "But a '60s 'bad girl' isn't very different from a '90s 'good girl,' so it isn't that much of a stretch."

The Montreal native landed the role of Roxanne shortly after her first trip to Los Angeles for TV pilot auditions. During filming, she lives in an L.A.

apartment next door to TV best friend Brittany Snow.

"It's great," she says. "We can work out together or just hang and relax. It makes being away from my family a little easier."

Lengies has been acting and working as a voice artist since age 9, but she admits she is having a little trouble adapting to the broader fame "Dreams" has brought her, including a Yahoo! news group called "Forever Vanny."

"OK, first, it is just incredibly flattering that someone thinks enough of me and my work to create something like that," she says. "But, it does get a little weird - people signing on and pretending to be me, you know. And no one in my real life calls me 'Vanny,' as far as I know."

The actress has put college on hold for the moment, but she plans to go back and earn a degree in architecture at some point.

"Oh, I have so many interests," she gasps, "and I want to do all of them. I may be a 65-year-old architecture student, but I know I will do it. More than anything, though, I always want to keep acting!"

Born: July 21, 1985, in Montreal.

Voice credits: She's Emily in the popular animated kids show "Arthur," a role she reprises in the upcoming "Arthur, the Movie." Also "Little Lulu" and "Caillou."

On camera roles: TV movie "Ratz"; "Popular Mechanics for Kids," "Lassie," "Are You Afraid of the Dark?" and "Radio Active."

Hobbies: Snowboarding, dancing, singing, event planning. "Oh, I love planning theme parties. When the first 'Survivor' came out, I was so hooked on the show that I threw myself a 'Survivor' birthday party. And the other girls voted me off. On my birthday!"

Fan mail: Vanessa Lengies, Jonas Public Relations, 240 26th St., Suite Santa Monica, CA 90402.

Sink your teeth into a week of sharks on Discovery

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

The lazy days of August bring TV viewers golf, college football, the first new series of the fall season and Discovery Channel's annual salute to the predators of the sea.

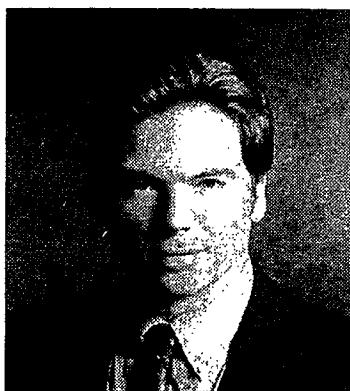

This year, "Shark Week" airs Sunday through Sunday, Aug. 10-17. All shows in this series, which dates back to 1988, are premieres: "Anatomy of a Shark Bite" (Sunday), "Monster Garage: Shark Boat" (Monday), "Diary of a Shark Man" (Tuesday), "Robo Shark" (Wednesday), "Jaws of the Pacific" and "Sharks Under Glass" (Thursday), and "Shark Roulette" (Friday). Rebroadcasts air on the weekend.

In "Robo Shark," the only tape available at press time, celebrated naturalist Sir David Attenborough brings his infectious curiosity to a documentary that features a 6-foot robotic shark that swims with the real flesh-and-blood kind.

Equipped with cameras, it gets much closer to real sharks than even the most intrepid divers dare. The images it records of bites, feeding frenzies and sharks in the deep are mesmerizing.

Over the course of two years, Robo Shark swam with various shark species and proved once again how incredibly smart they are. Grey reef sharks, for instance, are too clever to be fooled by this pretender.

The documentary is jammed with facts and exquisite photography. Sharks jut out of the sea as they ready to plunge on prey, and hammerheads glide through the water in some truly spectacular close-ups.

Horoscope This Week

By Caroline James - Zap2it

Aug. 10 through Aug. 16, 2003

Aries (March 21 - April 20)

Your social calendar will be full, so be sure to eat right and get enough sleep. You will need the extra rest.

Taurus (April 21 - May 20)

You are on top of the game careerwise, Taurus, so count your blessings. And if you're looking for a new job, you just might get that call.

Gemini (May 21 - June 20)

If you've thought about pursuing a higher degree, consider it more seriously now. You might have the ambition to do it.

Cancer (June 21 - July 20)

You're sitting pretty financially, Cancer, so let the money belt loose a little and stop being so stingy. Someday, you'll wish you hadn't been so frugal.

Leo (July 21 - Aug. 21)

Relationships are highlighted, thanks to the full moon. If you're single, you could meet someone special right now, so go out on the town.

Virgo (Aug. 22 - Sept. 22)

You'll probably be back to your usual self, less stressed out and more able to take life as it comes. People will be glad to have you back.

Libra (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22)

Children will be a focus right now, so be sure to pay extra attention to them. If you're feeling any creative urges, go with the flow.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 - Nov. 22)

You'll be a whirlwind of activity around the home, preparing it for guests or maybe for yourself. Either way, you'll be getting a lot done.

Sagittarius (Nov. 23 - Dec. 20)

Communication is important right now, so be sure to speak very clearly about what you want and need. Otherwise, you could be misunderstood.

Capricorn (Dec. 21 - Jan. 19)

If you're tempted to splurge, it'll be OK if you do. Don't bother holding back - a big-ticket item every now and again won't break the bank.

Aquarius (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18)

You'll feel emotionally grounded and centered, maybe even strong enough to take on the world! Don't do everything at once, though.

Pisces (Feb. 19 - March 20)

You might feel like keeping to yourself at this time, and that's more than OK. Just let everyone know you're retreating for a while.

Many comedians poked fun at Denis Leary's movie career during a Manhat-

'CSI' shows gearing up for mystery anew on CBS

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

The evidence is clear. "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" and "CSI: Miami" have drawn huge audiences into the world of forensics.

The CBS shows are aiming to keep viewers surprised. "CSI: Miami" starts its second season Sept. 22, with the fourth-season premiere of "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" following on Sept. 25.

The original "CSI" is up for six Emmy Awards, including outstanding drama series and lead actress (Marg Helgenberger), while "CSI: Miami" has one bid for cinematography. The programs maintain separate staffs, but both count filmmaker Jerry Bruckheimer ("Bad Boys II," "Pirates of the Caribbean: The Curse of the Black Pearl") and "CSI" creator Anthony Zuiker among their executive producers.

"I think the whole run of our franchise has been full of surprises," says Zuiker, who became very familiar with Las Vegas - the backdrop of "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" - during his six years there as a hotel tram driver. The parent show's mantra for the coming year is "Assume Nothing," which also happens to be the subtitle of its first new episode. Carol Mendelsohn, another executive producer of both series, promises "one of the biggest surprises of the new season will be in that first episode."

As for "CSI: Miami," producer Ann Donahue reports, "Calleigh Duquesne (played by Emily Procter) has a secret romance in the office. We're going to learn more about Speedle's (Rory Cochrane) background. What we're doing this year is to have the other characters who aren't as well-known interact, so you get to see them like a family. Your eye will go not only to David (Caruso, the spinoff's top-billed star), but also to the rest of the cast."

Romance also is likely to factor into "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" since the seeds already have been planted. "We like to play subtexts between Grissom and Sara (William Petersen, Jorja Fox)," Zuiker says. "That was certainly an interesting dynamic last year, when the entire lab blew up and she hurt her wrist and he called her 'Honey.' When we choose to do those moments, we get a lot of mileage from them. We'll get into them, but we're not a melodrama. We're primarily about forensics and solving crimes."

The hearing loss faced by team leader Grissom will be resolved in the "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" season premiere, according to Mendelsohn. "When you do a procedural drama," she says, "you still want to develop the characters. That has really allowed us to give Grissom an arc for this season, to explain certain things that happened last season. It's been so rich that it's something we're very glad we did, and it will be ongoing, since Grissom has a deaf parent. That's not going to go away."

"CSI: Miami" started with Kim Delaney as a cast regular, but she left before the show's first half-season was over. Her character still won't be replaced in the new stories. "It was just one of those rare instances in television," producer Jonathan Littman explains, "where instead of just dragging something out and waiting and praying that what wasn't working on screen would work, we took action. I think it threw everybody because most producers don't do it. They're usually too scared to make changes. We're not." (Delaney will rejoin the cast of the ABC police drama "NYPD Blue" this fall.)

A "CSI: Crime Scene Investigation" episode that took Catherine Willows (Helgenberger) to Florida was the pilot for "CSI: Miami." More cast crossovers are possible in the new season, especially since Petersen seems more comfortable with the spinoff's existence than he was initially. Zuiker says, "I think he's come to accept that the franchise is bigger than him, bigger than us. There are no tensions as of this point. There's a great camaraderie, and it's not an issue."

'OLTL' player takes break from acting

Q: On "One Life to Live," what ever happened to the actress who had played Jessica Buchanan all these years, and who was she? She was one of my favorites. -Laura, Taneytown, Md.

A: Erin Torpey, the 22-year-old actress who took over the role of Jessica in 1990, left the part several weeks ago saying she needed a break and wants to go back to school. She also reportedly wants to explore career possibilities as a singer. While co-starring on "One Life to Live," she worked nights with Bernadette Peters and Martin Short in the 1993 Broadway musical "The Goodbye Girl" and has other musicals to her credit as well.

Q: Please tell me anything you can about Tyler Florence of Food Network's "Food 911." If he's gay, I'll cry. -Jean from Pennsylvania.

Erin Torpey

A: Um, I'll just refer that whole "gay" question to Evyn Block, whom Florence warmly calls his "girlfriend and life editor" in the dedication for his best-selling cookbook, "Tyler Florence's Real Kitchen," for which he recently completed one of the most exhausting and extensive book tours on record. He also has a young son, Miles, from an earlier marriage.

Florence, 32, is a native of Greenville, S.C., but has lived in the New York area for more than a decade now. After working under the tutelage of some of the city's best chefs, he became executive chef at the tony Cibo restaurant, where his creations received lavish praise from The New York Times and other publications. In 1998, he opened the critically acclaimed Cafeteria in Manhattan as executive chef.

In addition to "Food 911," Florence also hosts "Tyler's Ultimate" for Food Network and is a regular contributor to NBC's "Today" show.

Q: My children and I avidly watch "Malcolm in the Middle" on Sunday nights. What is the name of the theme song, what band plays it and on what album can it be found? -Dan Rosenbaum, Mount Laurel, N.J.

A: Probably the best place to find "Boss of Me" by They Might Be Giants is via the group's two-CD set "Dial-a-Song: 20 Years of They Might Be Giants." You may come across the CD single of the song in some import shops, but it's hard to find these days.

Andrew Luster's flight from justice fuels Lifetime movie

By Jay Bobbin
© Zap2it

Ripped from the headlines, a new TV movie had to change to keep pace with the real story.

Fugitive and Max Factor heir Andrew Luster was found in Mexico by bounty hunters while "A Date With Darkness: The Trial and Capture of Andrew Luster" was being filmed in Victoria, B.C. Adapted from court transcripts, the Lifetime drama airs Monday, Aug. 11, and reflects Luster's arrest in June after he fled from the California trial that convicted him on 86 criminal counts, including poisoning and rape. He was accused of drugging female victims before sexually assaulting them and recording the encounters on videotape.

Jason Gedrick ("Boomtown") plays Luster, with Marla Sokoloff ("The Practice") as one of the three women who brought charges against the surfing buff and Internet day trader.

In televising the film, Lifetime is partnered with RAINN (the Rape, Abuse & Incest National Network) and the National Center for Victims of Crime in an effort to raise awareness of so-called "rape drugs." The odorless and colorless GHB, or "liquid X," allegedly was used by Luster in rendering women helpless; it would vanish from their systems in 12 hours, leaving them without proof of having been assaulted.

"The rewrite really was only a couple of additional scenes," Gedrick says of the movie's accommodation of recent case developments. "We had taken a leap of faith and assumed that (Luster) would be in a hotel in Mexico. We had already shot that scene, which had nothing to do with anything we knew at the time - so that just worked out. We guessed where he was and what he was doing, right down to having tequila in his room."

Being so prescient gave Gedrick a feeling of vindication as the facts unfolded. "It was kind of eerie as well," he says. "We're talking about something where legal issues are involved, and you don't want to exaggerate the truth. You're allowed a certain amount of dramatic leeway in terms of what could be, but I don't think anyone expected it to happen this way. Once it did happen, a weight just lifted off us. I found out about it when I arrived on the set that morning, maybe three hours after the arrest. It was an odd feeling of, 'What does this mean to us?'"

Gedrick tried to translate the sensibility of the moment into his performance. "Immediately, I assumed what he must be going through when you're finally nabbed and the game is up," the actor says. "It was almost like knowing someone who died, just a really strange experience. Even now, with the film completed, people are asking if I want to meet him. I would be interested in doing that if I thought we could have a candid conversation. I'd like to tell him how I went about doing each scene. I'm sure he's aware of the movie, since an addiction to the limelight was part of his focus. That's what I'd want to talk to him about, that need to be in control and to be adored, if I thought it would help me get to the bottom of his psyche."

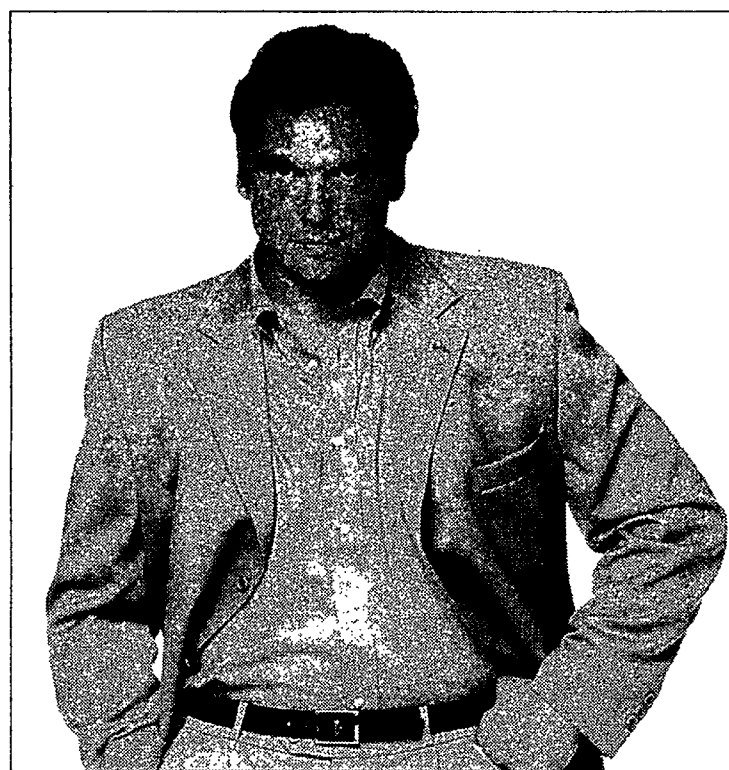

Some insight was provided by people Chicago native Gedrick knows from time he spent in Santa Barbara,

Calif., not far from Luster's home. "They told me (Luster) didn't have a lot of incentive to do anything but surf and meet girls. That certainly doesn't justify the extent of the crimes he was convicted of, but for me, it goes back to evolving from having a partying type of fun to being a sexual criminal. Where is the line drawn, and at what point do you cross it? I'm interested in what the media also is interested in about this case."

Gedrick says his acceptance of the role was "pretty much contingent on whether they were just going to try to make it about evil men and victorious women. That's not to say it isn't what the crime was and what the victims experienced, but I didn't want to play just a nefarious villain. It became very important for me to talk beforehand with (director) Bobby Roth, with whom I'd had a great experience on 'Boomtown,' and I think we turned this into something pretty interesting."

Gedrick hopes he'll be able to say the same about the upcoming second season of "Boomtown," the NBC drama series that tells a single Los Angeles crime story from several people's viewpoints in each episode. Moving from Sundays to Fridays (following summer repeats of the first year's stories on TNT), the show - which recently won two Television Critics Association Awards, including Outstanding New Program - is adding singer-actress Vanessa Williams to its regular cast.

"That certainly can't hurt, but I think we owe our getting picked up to the media," says Gedrick, who plays policeman Tom Turcotte on the show. "Of course, NBC makes the final decision - and I'm certainly grateful to them - but we certainly waged a battle. We even taped a spoof on video, talking about different reviews and opinions of 'Boomtown,' and (the renewal) came down to the last possible day they could have told us. Hats off to the media for supporting us and fighting for us, because it took every uppercut and right hook to get us back."

Disney's 'Cheetah Girls' try to sing their way to the top

By Jacqueline Cutler
© Zap2it

Galleria Garibaldi is a talented teen with big dreams and eventually, an ego to match, in Disney Channel's "The Cheetah Girls," premiering Friday, Aug. 15.

Raven ("That's So Raven") stars as Galleria, a talented teen with big dreams. She attends the fictional Manhattan Magnet School in the fictional Manhattan, which, in reality, is Toronto.

Once again, Toronto is supposed to fill in for Manhattan, but the attempt fails. This is painfully clear in the final scenes when midtown is shut down to rescue a dog trapped in a hole at a construction site. Even young viewers, who profess this movie "super great," had to admit a dog could never stop the city this way, and the ending is so forced, it is impossible to believe.

That aside, the movie tends to hold its target audience. Based on the popular books, the sensibility behind Deborah Gregory's "The Cheetah Girls" series is sound. The credo is: "Cheetah Girls are created equal, but we are not alike. We come in different sizes, shapes and colors, but we don't judge others by the color of their spots."

The movie takes this directive quite seriously since the Cheetahs group is racially mixed. These girls can sing, and it is not surprising when the high-school drama teacher, Drinka Champagne (Sandra Caldwell), picks them to be in the talent show. But slimy alum Jackal Johnson (Vincent Corazza) is a music-industry honcho and offers to take them on.

The girls, who always have worked hard together, find Galleria assuming airs and position. She thinks she is the boss and, naturally, her pals do not take this well. Some of the girls have a lot of expendable cash, and their pet phrase, when buying a particularly cute outfit, is "cheetah-licious."

Raven, taking a break on a Southern California beach, explains how she relates to her character Galleria's determination "to reach her goal, and she won't let anybody stop her," is familiar. Raven says, "And I kind of have that, in a way. She stepped on people's toes. I don't like doing that. I am very determined to get where I want to go."

Galleria fights anyone in her way, including her mother, Dorothea (Lynn Whitfield, "The Josephine Baker Story"). Yet, Dorothea determinedly protects Galleria.

When Galleria forgets her responsibilities, such as walking her Bishop Frise, Toto (Cappuccino, the author's dog, in his debut), because she is so consumed with singing, her mom brings her down to Earth. "Before we can get to maids and butlers," Mom says, "here's my plan. Let's focus on real life, real soon."

Galleria has her feet firmly planted in mid-air, and only concentrates on the singing group.

Fellow Cheetahs Chanel and Aqua (Adrienne Bailon and Kiely Williams of the singing group 3LW), and Dorinda (Sabrina Bryan) want to sing and dance, but refuse to hew to Galleria's whims.

The movie musically and morally hits the right notes. Galleria cops an attitude and her friends get angry, but because theirs is a true friendship, good triumphs.

"Friends are the most important things," Raven says. "Life is nothing without friends or family."

Despite the overly sappy and ridiculous ending, this is a pleasant way for preteens and teens to spend a Friday evening. The absolute worst that could come of this is that viewers may start saying, "cheetah-licious."

Sabrina Bryan, Raven, Kiely Williams and Adrienne Bailon (from left) star as high-school teenagers who form a singing group, and then have to deal with the fallout of becoming popular in Disney Channel's "The Cheetah Girls," premiering Friday.

No-names likely to challenge at PGA

By George Dickie
 © Zap2it

The names - Mike Weir, Jim Furyk, Ben Curtis - are not exactly of the household variety. Their exploits prior to 2003 were little known.

Yet, here they are as the title holders of this year's first three major championships - the Masters, the U.S. Open and the British Open - an arena typically dominated by familiar names such as Tiger Woods, Vijay Singh and Ernie Els.

What's going on with all these no-names getting the glory this year? "I think what's happened is that it goes all the way back to Tiger," says Peter Kostis, a CBS course reporter who will be at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y., when CBS and TNT broadcast the year's final major, the PGA Championship, live Thursday through Sunday, Aug. 14-17.

"He has set a new standard, and all the other players that were chasing him have seen the work ethic that Tiger brought to the game and they saw the standard that he set, and so they've all worked very, very hard to get better to be able to compete. So the result of that is going to be I think you're going to find a lot more people, first-time winners of major championships, coming up because guys have paid their dues.

"Oftentimes in golf - it's an old phrase that I've used a long, long time - that you get out of golf what you put into it, just not necessarily at the same time," Kostis continues. "I think you're now starting to see players reaping the rewards for working out and changing golf swings and putting in a lot of time a year ago or two years ago.

Rich Beem, another relative unknown, was last year's winner at Hazeltine National Golf Club in Chaska, Minn., thanks to some stalwart play down the stretch on Sunday to hold off a surging Woods for a one-stroke victory. Beem may or may not be back to defend his title due to the impending birth of his first child. But Weir, Furyk and Curtis will be there, as will Singh, Els, Woods, Phil Mickelson, Davis Love III, Sergio Garcia and the rest of the creme de la creme of the PGA Tour.

They'll be playing an Oak Hill course that is not the typical long hitter's layout that seems to be becoming the norm on the PGA Tour. The fairways are narrow, averaging 23 yards, and the greens are difficult. In fact, Kostis, who played the course during Media Day recently, says the greens can be downright impossible if you don't take care in placing your approach shot.

"I actually hit a very good drive from the back tee at 18 and had a 7-iron in, and I hit it six feet from the hole," he says. "But I got up there and I didn't even want to hit the putt. I was three feet above the hole and about four feet to the right of the hole, about six feet away, and the putt broke three feet. So it's not a question of just hitting it close, but hitting it in the right portion of the green. And if they're firm, as they would hope for them to be during the tournament, then they're going to become just that much more difficult."

Who does Kostis expect to play well here? "I think this is going to be a golf course - to pick a wild card - that a Jeff Sluman-type player could do well at," he says. "I mean, you're just going to have to put it on the fairway; you're going to have to not be greedy with your approach shots, and then be a very good putter. So Jeff comes to mind. Obviously, you can't discount Ernie Els or Tiger Woods. Based on recent form, I would expect Phil Mickelson to have probably a difficult time. He just hasn't been hitting a high enough percentage of fairways off the tee to compete. So I think this is going to be another control play. I mean, I wouldn't be a bit surprised to see Jim Furyk right there at the end. Or Mike Weir."

And the fact that Woods has not won a major this year doesn't mean that he has lost anything, according to Kostis. "Anybody who thinks that Tiger's playing worse doesn't know golf," he says. "He's won (at press time, four of 11 tournaments) this year. And not only has he won, but the other ones where he didn't win he was right there. So I mean, he's playing every bit as well as he's ever played. Having said that, the caveat would be he's probably not driving the ball as often or as well as he did a couple of years ago. But apart from that, he's right there. So I think a bunch of other guys have gotten better."

"NASCAR Winston Cup Sirius at the Glen" Sunday, Aug. 10 (NBC, 1:30 p.m. ET): It's not unusual for Tony Stewart to have recorded just one win after 19 Winston Cup races this season. His typical second-half surge seemingly began May 25 when over the next seven races, which included his Pocono 500 win, he gained 12 point positions. Today, Stewart looks to move up further in the title chase when he gets behind the wheel of his No. 20 Chevrolet as the defending champion in the Sirius at the Glen, from the 2.45-mile road course in Watkins Glen, N.Y.

"Atlanta Braves at St. Louis Cardinals" Sunday, Aug. 10 (ESPN, 8 p.m. ET): The major's best team recordwise faces one of its best hitters when the Atlanta Braves take on Albert Pujols and the St. Louis Cardinals. If Atlanta has a lead late in the game, closer John Smoltz is sure to get the call, and a matchup worthy of the admission price would be Smoltz vs. Pujols. Both guys are in line for post-season hardware - Smoltz the Cy Young (Dennis Eckersley was the last reliever to win it in '92) and Pujols the MVP.

"NFL Preseason Football" Thursday, Aug. 14 (Fox, 8 p.m. ET): They both call the Bay area home, but neither the San Francisco 49ers nor the Oakland Raiders put out a welcome mat when the other visits. Even for a meaningless preseason encounter like tonight's, the hitting will be ferocious and the trash talking rated R, but that shouldn't prevent points from being scored. Quarterback Rich Gannon and the Raiders led the NFL in offense last season, and the 49ers defense was never described as stingy in 2002.

The Simpsons

Simpson family dog Santa's Little Helper gets a new image, to say the least, when he becomes the spokespooch for Duff Beer in "Old Yeller Belly." Company tycoon H.K. Duff (voice of guest star Stacy Keach) renames the dog Suds McDuff, and Homer (voice of Dan Castellaneta) is only too happy about the newfound fame and fortune — until he hears protests from an unexpected source.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Inside the Actors Studio

On the eve of "The West Wing" starting weeknight repeats on Bravo, the "president" of that drama series — Martin Sheen — discusses the Emmy-winning show and other elements of his rich, varied career in this new episode. Sheen recalls the stresses on the set of "Apocalypse Now" that led to his heart attack. He also talks about maintaining a balance between his acting and his activism.

Storm of the Century

An otherworldly stranger unleashes a wave of death on an island community during a nasty winter storm, taunting the townspeople with the cryptic message, "Give me what I want, and I'll go away." When they finally learn what he wants, they have a terrible choice to make. Colm Feore, Tim Daly and Debrah Farentino star in this three-part 1999 miniseries from horror master Stephen King; it continues on Monday and Sunday, Aug. 17.

Soap Talk

SOAPnet takes viewers to 'Another World'

By Candace Havens
© Zap2it

No one was happier than Linda Dano to learn SOAPnet had picked up the former NBC soap opera "Another World."

Dano's joy is shared by still-pining "AW" fans. "I was so excited for all of those fans who have wanted the show back on the air," she says. "Literally, since the day it went off, I've been getting letters about what the fans could do to bring it back. So, this is a perfect solution."

Dano, who now stars in ABC's "One Life to Live," says she misses playing flamboyant Felicia Gallant in "AW." "That was absolutely a once-in-a-lifetime character. Don't get me wrong, I love playing Rae on "OLTL," but Felicia was something else. She covered the gamut. She was smart, funny and she knew how to live life."

Watching some of the earlier "AW" episodes is difficult for Dano because some of her favorite co-workers have died.

"You know, it's sad, and at the same time, also great to go back and relive those memories with a box of tissue by my side. We had so much fun, and I worked with so many wonderful people. I don't know which ones, but I have a feeling there will be some episodes that are just too hard for me to watch, because I miss those actors so much."

"AW" debuted on May 4, 1964. At the time of its cancellation in 1999, it was the longest-running program on the network.

"Generations of people watched that show," Dano says. "I have whole families who still write to me from the grandmother to the granddaughter. Daytime fans are very close to their shows anyway, but the 'AW' fans felt like we were their family."

So far this summer, Dano has filmed a new television movie for ABC Family, "See Jane Date," which airs Saturday, Aug. 16. It features Dano as the aunt of a woman who is getting back into the dating game.

"It's about a young woman who invents the perfect boyfriend, only he isn't real," Dano says. "It's a really fun movie."

That '70s Show

The Formans aren't happy to learn that Jackie (Mila Kunis) has been spending nights in their house with Hyde (Danny Masterson) in "Bring It on Home." But with her father in jail and her mother out of the country, Jackie has no place to go. Donna (Laura Prepon) comes to the rescue with an offer to stay with her family. Speaking of families, Fez (Wilmer Valderrama) wants to meet Nina's (Joanna Canton).

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
My Wife and Kids

In "Sharon's Picture" Jay (Tisha Campbell-Martin) discovers that Michael (Damon Wayans) has kept a photograph of a woman he dated years earlier, and she wonders why. Could it be that this particular old flame is a hottie? Young Franklin (Noah Gray-Cabey) finds it difficult to acknowledge the singing talent of his little sister, Aretha (guest star Jamia Simone Nash, "Showtime at the Apollo").

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Smallville

The mission is personal for Clark (Tom Welling) when Martha (Annette O'Toole) is taken hostage by criminals — along with Lionel (John Glover), who gets a big test of his mansion's new surveillance system — in "Insurgence." Naturally, Clark wants to rescue his Earth mother, but he must do it in a way that doesn't reveal his otherworldly powers.

7 p.m. on 54-UPN
Enterprise

A family reunion for Mayweather (Anthony Montgomery) turns into a crisis when the setting, his relatives' cargo ship, is targeted by intergalactic pirates in "Horizon." Back aboard Enterprise, "Frankenstein" gets a lot of consideration, since the crew members — including first-time viewers T'Pol and Phlox (Jolene Blalock, John Billingsley)— watch the classic horror movie.

7 p.m. and TNT
Movie: The Edge

A plane trip to Alaska turns into a deadly fight for survival in David Mamet's 1997 suspense film. After the vehicle crashes in the wilderness, a reclusive billionaire and an ambitious photographer (Anthony Hopkins, Alec Baldwin) must make their way through dangerous territory while being stalked by a bear. But the biggest threat the two men face is each other.

7 p.m. on USA
Movie: Metro

Mix a little "Beverly Hills Cop" and "Lethal Weapon" and you have the formula for this 1997 action film. Like "Cop," it stars Eddie Murphy as a law enforcer — a San Francisco hostage negotiator, this time — seeking his buddy's killer after officially being taken off the case. Michael Rapaport plays his bright new partner, with Michael Wincott ("Alien Resurrection") as the bad guy, a psychotic jewel thief. Carmen Ejogo also stars.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
George Lopez

In "I Only Have Eyes for You," George (George Lopez) worries excessively when Carmen (Masiela Lusha) starts attending her new high school. He's just being a concerned dad, but Carmen interprets his behavior to mean he doesn't trust her. She does make a new friend, a girl who sets Max's (Luis Armand Garcia) heart aflutter. Constance Marie co-stars.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC
The West Wing

Plans for President Bartlet's (Martin Sheen) inauguration speech have to stay fluid because of rapidly changing developments in "Inauguration Day Part II: Over There." The U.S. military is in place and waiting to be activated as an international crisis unfolds, and the chief executive and his staff realize they'll have to address any action taken by U.S. forces on foreign shores.

ABC's 50th Anniversary Blooper Celebration

Dick Clark hosts the second half of this two-part special showcasing funny foul-ups from ABC shows past and present. Clark, of course, is no stranger to blooper shows, having hosted many, and he's also well-acquainted with one of the classic series spotlighted in this hour: his own "American Bandstand." There also are outtakes from "Donny and Marie," "The Practice" and more, with comments from some of their stars.

7 p.m. on 38-WB
Movie: Valentine

A young woman (Katherine Heigl) is murdered and shortly afterward, four of her friends (Marley Shelton, Denise Richards, Jessica Capshaw, Jessica Cauffiel) start getting scary valentine cards and gifts, apparently from the killer. They suspect a former classmate, a boy they tormented in sixth grade, but police suspect the killer may be closer to home. David Boreanaz ("Angel") also stars in this gory 2001 thriller.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: The Professional

Luc Besson, the French filmmaker who scored with "La Femme Nikita," again concentrates on covert criminal activities with this effective 1994 hybrid of genres. Jean Reno ("Mission: Impossible") stars as a killer who alters his modus operandi when a young neighbor (Natalie Portman) becomes his companion following her parents' deaths. Gary Oldman co-stars as a corrupt cop.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Scrubs

Distraught over her mother's sudden death, Carla (Judy Reyes) rethinks her imminent marriage to Turk (Donald Faison) in "My Drama Queen." As J.D.'s (Zach Braff) romance with Jamie (guest star Amy Smart) starts to hit the skids, he seeks advice from Elliot (Sarah Chalke). Dr. Cox (John C. McGinley) draws the unwanted assignment of conducting a daily seminar on doctors' handling of patients.

Movie: The Spy Who Loved Me

Agent 007 forms an alliance with a Russian agent to thwart a villainous plan to use an international fleet of atomic subs to destroy the world. Roger Moore stars in this 1977 release, with Barbara Bach, Curt Jurgens and Richard Kiel. Carly Simon sings "Nobody Does It Better."

7 p.m. on TBS

Movie: U.S. Marshals

Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal Sam Gerard (Tommy Lee Jones) was the "bad guy" in "The Fugitive," the man who was bound and determined to make Harrison Ford's character pay for a murder he didn't commit. In this 1998 adventure, he's unmistakably the good guy, who jumps into criminal-chasing mode after an accused killer (Wesley Snipes) escapes from the crashed plane they were both on. Robert Downey Jr., Joe Pantoliano and Kate Nelligan also star.

7:30 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Wanda at Large

Wanda's (Wanda Sykes) report on an allegedly corrupt city official (guest star Robert DoQui, "RoboCop") gets an unexpected slant after he dies in "Death of a Councilman." Originally critical of the man, the piece praises him.

Loretta Devine

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

Boston Public

Marla (Loretta Devine) gets a surprise as she tries to find the source of the students' ability to cheat on tests in "Chapter Sixty-Two." Harper (Chi McBride) intervenes when two pupils are threatened with arrest for provoking a fight between homeless people.

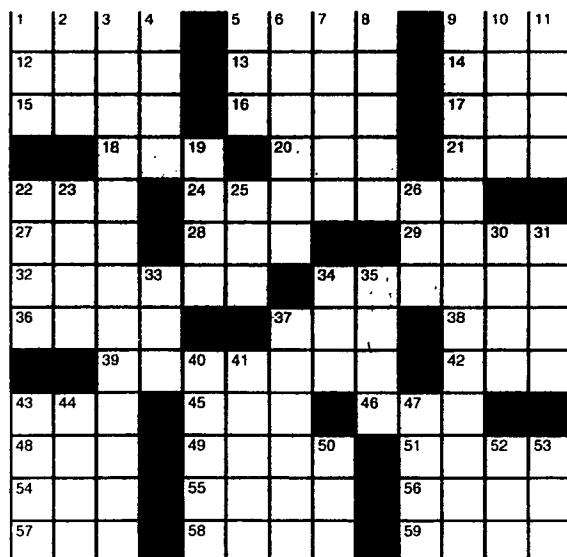

8 p.m. and DSC

Shark Roulette

Is it safe to go back in the water? This new two-hour "Shark Week" offering attempts to answer that question. Underwater filmmaker Mike deGruy runs down the 10 places where people are most likely to be attacked by sharks and analyzes the odds of such an attack happening. The special also looks at the technology being used to track sharks in an effort to keep people out of their way.

(Ratings for each film begin with a "star" rating - one star meaning "poor," four meaning "excellent" - followed by the Motion Picture Association of America rating, and then by a family-viewing guide, the key for which appears below.)

STARTING THIS WEEK (New releases):

"THE LIZZIE McGUIRE MOVIE": Teen idol Hilary Duff parlayed her popular Disney Channel character into a feature film with this spirited comedy, which gives her two roles. While on a trip to Italy, Lizzie is mistaken for her look-alike (hence, Duff's second role), a pop singer whose handsome music partner (Yani Gellman) makes it impossible for Lizzie to turn down becoming a stand-in. Robert Carradine and Hallie Todd play Lizzie's parents; Adam Lamberg also repeats his TV role as Gordo. DVD extras: "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes and alternate ending; Hilary Duff music video; preview of Duff's upcoming music album.  (PG: AS)

"HEAD OF STATE": Chris Rock wears many hats in this amusing political comedy as director, co-writer and star. He plays a low-level Washington, D.C., dignitary who gets a huge career boost when his party suddenly makes him a presidential nominee. He decides to keep the ticket close to home by making his brother (Bernie Mac) his vice-presidential candidate. The White House could become a very lively place as a result. Dylan Baker, Lynn Whitfield and Robin Givens co-star. DVD extras: audio commentary by Rock; deleted scenes; photo gallery.  (PG-13: AS, P)

"CRADLE 2 THE GRAVE": Action is the name of the game for martial-arts star Jet Li and rapper DMX in a break-neck-paced action tale directed by cinematographer Andrzej Bartkowiak ("Speed"). DMX plays an expert jewel thief whose daughter is kidnapped to force him into stealing diamonds taken in a prior robbery. The criminal has to team with a foreign intelligence agent (Li) to determine who has the demanded ransom - before it's too late. Anthony Anderson, Kelly Hu ("X2: X-Men United"), Tom Arnold and Mark Dacascos co-star. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; "making-of" documentaries; DMX music video.  (R: AS, P, V)

"THE HUNTED": Oscar winners Tommy Lee Jones and Benicio Del Toro go "mano a mano" in director William Friedkin's grim, brutal melodrama, a variation on the classic story "The Most Dangerous Game" set in the Pacific Northwest. Del Toro plays a former Special Forces officer who has made a sport of hunting people in the wilderness, prompting his former commander (Jones) to emerge from retirement to track him down. Connie Nielsen ("Gladiator") and Leslie Stefanson ("The General's Daughter") co-star. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; audio commentary by Friedkin; "making-of" documentaries; deleted scenes.  (R: AS, P, GV)

"HOUSE OF 1,000 CORPSES": Nearly destined to remain on a shelf forever - since its original distributor decided against handling the final product - writer-director Rob Zombie's contribution to the horror genre certainly doesn't shortchange the gore factor. Several unsuspecting young folks have the misfortune of getting lost in a backwoods area. Their luck doesn't improve when they happen upon a foreboding house whose residents are bizarre, to say the least. Cast members include Chris Hardwick ("Shipmates") and Karen Black. DVD extras: audio commentary by Zombie; deleted scenes.  (R: AS, P, GV)

"CARRIE": Originally filmed in 1976, the Stephen King horror novel is dramatized anew in this less-effective version, made last year for NBC and incorporating scenes from the book that weren't included in the first movie. Angela Bettis (Broadway's "The Crucible") stars in the title role as the telekinetic teen, who uses her mind power against cruel high-school peers. Patricia Clarkson ("Six Feet Under"), David Keith, Rena Sofer and Emilie de Ravin ("Roswell") co-star.  (Not rated: AS, P, V)

COMING SOON (Upcoming releases):

"BOWLING FOR COLUMBINE" (Aug. 19): Director Michael Moore's controversial, Oscar-winning documentary explores the culture of gun ownership in the U.S. (R: AS, P)

"CHICAGO" (Aug. 19): The movie version of the hit musical stars Renee Zellweger and Catherine Zeta-Jones as lethal ladies linked to a cagey lawyer (Richard Gere). (PG-13: AS, P, V)

"THE LORD OF THE RINGS: THE TWO TOWERS" (Aug. 26): Frodo (Elijah Wood) and his comrades proceed in their quest as the J.R.R. Tolkien fantasy saga continues. (PG-13: P, V)

"ALIAS: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON" (Sept. 2): Sydney Bristow (Jennifer Garner) discovers that the CIA branch she works for actually is a rogue organization. (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"IDENTITY" (Sept. 2): The "Ten Little Indians" suspense premise gets an update as a storm strands strangers at a motel. Stars include John Cusack, Ray Liotta and Amanda Peet. (R: AS, P, V)

'The AMC Project' examines life in 'Gay Hollywood'

By Kate O'Hare
© Zap2it

While it may be easier in many ways to be gay in Los Angeles than in some parts of America, surviving showbiz is easy for no one.

That's one of the themes that comes out of "Gay Hollywood," a documentary airing Monday, Aug. 11, as part of AMC's ongoing series "The AMC Project." It's directed by Jeremy Simmons and produced by Randy Barbato and Fenton Bailey, who teamed on such previous projects as "Monica in Black and White," "School's Out: The Life of a Gay High School in Texas" and "Party Monster."

The film follows five gay men (all young and blond, to one degree or another) trying to make it in the entertainment industry: actor Robert Laughlin, writer-director Lance Black, writer Benjamin Morgan (who goes by Morgan), comedian and drag queen Micah McCain and writer-director Allan Brocka.

"AMC actually came to us," Barbato says, "and said they wanted to do something about gay Hollywood. Originally we talked about doing something historical, then it morphed out of an original idea of theirs to do a film about homosexuality and Hollywood."

"It was very organic. It started out as, 'Oh, let's do this documentary about homosexuality in Hollywood.' It had a broad feel, then in an organic way became something much more personal."

Interestingly enough, as the documentary progresses, the issue of the men's sexuality seems no more or less important to their success or failure than their innate talent, luck and willingness to apply themselves.

"All the guys have talent," Simmons says, "and some of them have more success than others. I do think you're right that it's not all about how being gay affects the process. This is very much about what it's like to be starting out in Hollywood regardless of your sexual orientation."

All of the participants fret about paying bills, about how they're perceived in the industry and about the eternal quest to find love in a town not known for an overabundance of honest emotion. Layered over these more universal concerns are the particular social and personal problems of being gay.

For example, Lance worries about being pegged as a gay filmmaker because he has other types of stories he'd like to sell; Micah seeks a way to parlay his drag act and persona into a way to make a good living; and Morgan gets some tough critiques and tough advice from other writers.

For the filmmakers, the process began with questions and ended with some surprising conclusions.

"What does it mean to be gay in Hollywood?" Barbato asks. "Is there a 'gay mafia'? How does sex and sexuality play into career advancement, particularly for gay men? Because there are a lot of gay men in Hollywood."

"We all came to the subject with a variety of preconceived notions about that, but as Jeremy was recording these people's lives, the reality became much more universal. Being gay isn't that different from being straight in Hollywood."

Also bubbling under the surface are the men's concerns about being stereotyped and society's lingering attitudes toward those stereotypes. These came to the forefront near the conclusion of the film, in a scene that takes place in January at the biannual Television Critics Association press tour in Hollywood.

The producers and the cast appear for a press conference in front of assembled TV critics, including one woman who asks the producers, "Aren't you afraid of perpetuating an unflattering stereotype?"

After some back and forth, she finally asks why they picked subjects "that are so gay."

"It's something that I didn't expect," Simmons recalls, "and I was actually really shocked when it happened. That's something I realized during the filming of this, that there's still this undercurrent out there. It slapped me in the face, to be honest, but it's still there."

"Also," Barbato adds, "there's this weird thing within the gay community that, to an extent, plays out in the film, of not being lumped into the category of stereotypical gays."

"The cast, which when you see them visually, may look very similar, but the reality is, they're very, very different guys. There was Lance, who had some apprehension of being tossed into this group of stereotypical gay men."

"It's interesting to watch them go through that and come out at the end, embracing one another's differences. But it was surprising to me that within one's own community, that there are these anxieties about, 'I'm this kind of gay and not that kind of gay.'"

The documentary also makes its debut at a time when several other gay-themed projects are premiering or close to it, including Bravo's makeover show "Queer Eye for the Straight Guy," its dating show "Boy Meets Boy," the upcoming ABC sitcom "It's All Relative" (about a blue-collar guy engaged to a woman raised by urbane gays) and Showtime's lesbian-themed drama "The L Word."

Actor Robert Laughlin is among five gay men seeking showbiz success who are profiled in "Gay Hollywood," airing Monday on AMC as part of the series "The AMC Project."

Look Inside for Your Chance to Win a Spa Certificate!

The 8-lb. Oreck XL® can cost you nothing.

And you get a free gift just to try it.

It uses 1/3 the electricity of virtually any other vacuum. That savings alone will pay for it.

Hi, I'm David Oreck. The performance of the Oreck XL® is incredible — its suction velocity is equivalent to a Category 2 hurricane. Dust, dander, pet hair, pollen and even dust mites come up in one sweep. Now, we've more than doubled the life of the motor and created a vacuum that will run more powerfully—so you can clean faster—and much more efficiently so you use a fraction of the electricity of those "gas guzzler" brands.

Oreck vacuums last longer.

A hypo-allergenic 8-lb. Oreck XL will still be going strong long after those heavy clunker vacs have been thrown out. Odds are you'd go through three other vacuums in the time you own one Oreck XL. And you get a 10-year housing warranty!

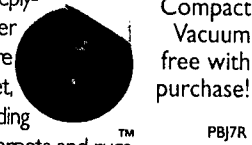

Clean carpets last longer.

The pile-lifting roller brushes on the Oreck XL whirl at 6,500 rpm. That's almost twice as fast as the competition. They loosen deeply-embedded dirt. But unlike other brands, they also restore the nap of your carpet, both protecting and extending the investment in your fine carpets and rugs.

A $130 gift for trying.

Oreck has done for the mixer what we did for the vacuum: reinvented it. Now the weight goes in the bowl, not in your hand. So you can easily mix, whip, beat and knead without hand fatigue. Our revolutionary mixer comes with a storage caddy and six attachments. It's yours to keep even if you return the vacuums. Remember, we pay all shipping. Nobody offers you more value than Oreck. Nobody!

William Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet...

the most famous love story of them all...
inspires a stunning ring
symbolizing the love in your life.

THE Rose of Love RING

Solid sterling silver accented in pink and yellow 24 karat gold and rhodium.

Three white sapphires.
A diamond at the center of the rose.

Romeo and Juliet. The timeless love story by William Shakespeare. As passionate and poignant today as it was in the 16th century. Inspired by this bittersweet story of love, The Franklin Mint is proud to present a ring so exquisite in its design that it tells this emotional story without words. Featuring a delicate rose ensconced by joined hearts encircling the finger in an eternal ring of love. In the center of the rose, a single brilliant diamond. Handcrafted of solid sterling silver, coated in three gleaming colors—pink and yellow 24 karat gold and precious white rhodium—then hand-set with sparkling white sapphires. Arrives in a deluxe presentation box. Available exclusively through The Franklin Mint, attractively priced, and payable in convenient monthly installments.

Presenting Deer Creek Farms

together for the first time ever!

John Deere and Thomas Kinkadee each uniquely reflect the spirit of our American heartland. John Deere's legendary farm equipment and Thomas Kinkadee's masterful paintings represent the best of our country's reputation for quality, innovation and raw talent. Now, for the first time ever, Thomas Kinkadee and John Deere join to salute our American heritage with "Deer Creek Farms". Let Thomas Kinkadee's brushstrokes take you to that idyllic place where cobblestone brooks flow and the familiar sound of the "Johnny Popper" tractor still echoes a comforting rhythm.

This four-piece set features impressively detailed 1:64 scale die-cast replicas and includes your own "Johnny Popper", a John Deere Model "B" tractor pulling a hay wagon and the "Deer Creek Farms" semi trailer with Kenworth K100 Cab — and the tractor-trailer has been artfully transformed into a canvas! You'll receive FREE with your order a set of handcrafted hay bales that can be loaded and unloaded from the wagon.

Demand for Thomas Kinkadee & John Deere is expected to be strong, order now to avoid disappointment.
